Memorial dedicated in memory of OPP Const. Andrew Gordon

by Jeff Wilson

To mark the one year anniversary of his death, a memorial was dedicated in the name of Ontario Provincial Police Const. Andrew Bruce Gordon.

Const. Gordon was killed in the line of duty, in a head-on vehicle collision on Sunday, May 3, 1992.

The memorial, a piece of talc donated by Canadian Talc Industries, has been placed in front of the Madoc OPP detachment in Madoc.

A plaque has been attached and reads, "The memorial dedicated in remembrance of Provincial Constable Andrew Bruce Gordon who died in the service of his province and this community on Sunday, May 3, 1992, donated by the community and his co-workers". A flowering crab tree was planted behind the memorial also in his memory.

A large crowd of fellow officers and residents of the community attended the ceremony.

Rev. Ian McAvoy, a close friend of Gordon, performed the dedication. In his address he said he hoped the memorial would "inspire the right response to standards and principles".

Const. Curtis McLean spoke on behalf of the detachment. He compared the loss of Const. Gordon to a loss of a family member.

He said he remembered Gordon as a "kind and gentle guy" who would "go to any length to get a laugh".

"He had a knack for being able to handle situations calmly," McLean said.

District Commander Marty Robbins commended the members of the community who he said "played a great part in the memorial". He asked that people walking by the memorial say a prayer for Gordon.

The idea for the memorial started with Constable Walt Sawkins who thought a tree should be planted in memory of Const. Gordon. Madoc Staff Sgt. Kerry Phillips suggested maybe a stone could also be included.

Staff Sgt. Phillips said a total of 175 hours work was put into the memorial, with half the work performed by officers and the other half by volunteers from the community.

Sawkins commended the generosity of the surrounding community. He said Canadian Talc allowed the department to pick out a piece of talc. Hastings Concrete donated materials and labor. IKO Industries donated the light in front of the ## Village Council upset with county over St. Lawrence St.

by Jeff Wilson

Madoc Village Council is fed up with having their complaints about St. Lawrence Street ignored and are pursuing opting out of the County Road system.

The village has complained to the county numerous times over the past five years about the condition of St. Lawrence Street, but to no avail. Reeve Tom Deline said he recently viewed the County's five year road plan, and stated that St. Lawrence Street is not on it.

Reeve Deline said the village's largest complaint is that St. Lawrence Street passes through roughly three blocks of the municipality's more heavily travelled commercial area and it hasn't been repaved since 1968.

The village has two county roads within its boundaries, St. Lawrence and Wellington Streets. The two streets amount to 2.94 kilometres.

At its March 30 meeting, Council voted to send a letter to the county, asking how it could opt out of the county roads system.

In response, County Engineer and Road Superintendent Garry Jewell stated that after reviewing the Public Transportation Highway Improvement Act he couldn't find a way the village could opt out of the system.

The village paid a road levy of $24,981 to the county in 1992, with $22,638 of that amount actually being spent on the roads.

Deline said if the only way the road will receive repaving in the next few years as if the village owns it, then so be it.

"We certainly could go ahead and repave it ourselves if we owned it, and take the responsibility for the potholes and so on," Deline said.

Apartments proposed again at old Madoc Hotel

by Jeff Wilson

The owners of the old Madoc Hotel are taking another kick at the can, submitting another zoning bylaw amendment application that would allow the creation of apartments above the restaurant.

Paul Kelly submitted the application on April 23 looking to amend the present zoning bylaw to allow for rental apartments on the second and third floors of the old Madoc Hotel.

A similar application was submitted in June of 1990, but was dropped after an objection stood against the amendment. Originally an objection was filed by the Madoc Business Association (MBA) and Bob Henderson over parking concerns. The MBA dropped their objection, but Henderson left his stand, subsequently Kelly withdrew his application.

The present application requests approval for 14 rental apartments on the second and third floors. The original application requested approval for 15 apartments.

The parking issue was examined by council, and a bylaw was passed to require 30 parking spots for the apartments, restaurant and bar.

Kelly told council he thought he could get at least 30 spots, with the realignment of the present parking area. He proposed that the parking spots be realigned to 8.5 feet by 19 feet from the present 9.84 ft. by 19 feet. Clerk/Treasurer Doug Parks told council the proposed size was standard in many other communities.

It was pointed out that in a consulting report prepared on the project in 1990 stated the restaurant was 2,000 square feet, but in actual fact it is 920 square feet. The difference in measurement cut the parking spot requirement in half for the restaurant.

Bingo Winner

Though the photo that appeared here last week stated Lois Hannah of Bannockburn was a "Big Winner" it failed to say the amount she won. The amount of the largest jackpot ever given away by the Madoc Township Recreation Committee was $2,500.

Area residents receive information on future steps of waste management board

by Jeff Wilson

About 35 people attended two Centre and South Hastings Waste Management public open house sessions to get a better understanding of where the selection process stands at this point.

The consultants, Proctor and Redfern, set-up a number of display boards to show who the process evolved and to describe what they have recommended the board do to get a short list of preferred sites.

Tom Deline, chairman of the Centre and South Hastings Waste Management Board attended the evening session to hear the presentation the consultants were giving to the public.

"I thought they had a good, reasonable display and if the people asked questions I thought they could follow a reasonable layman's in how we're going where we're going," Deline said.

When asked about the turnout, Deline said it was about what he expected.

I think people would like us to get on with it and get it done," he said.

The consultants told people attending the open house they will now go back look at the candidate areas and go through the mapping process to find a list of preferred sites.

Since the consultants were unable to find preferred sites during the last attempt, they will include land that is classified as hydrogeologically "favorable" along with the "most favorable" land.

As well, agricultural land that was used for continuous row crop, corn system, mixed system or grain system and farm enterprises of a minimum of 20 hectares in which capital investment is minimal, with no new buildings fed storage or equipment that were excluded, will be included in this selection process.

When asked what would the board would do if a short list of preferred sites was not found this time, Deline said he would recommend the board go to the province and suggest current sites in the various municipalities be expanded.

Madoc Summer Soccer league needs help

by Jeff Wilson

After a very successful first year the Madoc Summer Soccer league is in need of an league convenor and/or an executive committee to operate the league this season.

Rob Horwood single handedly ran the league himself last year.

In a letter the Madoc Village Council, Horwood stated that due to health reasons he could not guarantee he could run the league again this year. He asked for council's assistance in finding someone to operate the league.

Word of the program has spread around the area. Horwood stated in his letter that he has already received phone calls from parents in Tweed, Stirling and Marmora, not to mention a growing interest in the Madoc area.

Horwood feels if soccer is going to continue to thrive in the area the league must run this year.

"If the league is going to survive, it is imperative that it operate this summer too," he said in his letter.

Horwood has sent letters requesting use of school fields for the season, also has the uniforms used last season, as well as registration forms.

Bannockburn mine operation right on schedule

by Jeff Wilson

The mining operation in Bannockburn, being conducted by Canadian Mono Mining Inc., is "on schedule, on budget" and should have its 10,000 tonne sample extracted by the end of May, says to Bill Whittle, director/secretary of Canadian Mono Mining Inc.

The Main Street Mining Ltd. from Whitehorse in the Yukon has been contracted to extract the sample.

Currently two shifts of eight men are working 10 hour shifts, seven days a week. Whittle said the crews have opened a portal entrance and pumped out the water. They have blasted a 75 feet cross cut into the drift underneath the vein and will have completed blasting this week.

Samples taken from the drift area have shown good results. Whittle said the samples extracted have had two-thirds of an ounce of gold per tonne of ore.

Canadian Mono Mining is hoping to get two ounces of gold out of the 10,000 tonnes, Whittle said.

"If we're making money we'll continue, it looks good so far," Whittle said.

If this bulk project is successful, Whittle said the company will continue to work in the area. He added that the company has the mining rights to about 800 acres in the area and would like to check out resident's claims of gold deposits in the area.

The company is also looking into working on land owned by Noranda, southwest of Bannockburn. Whittle said they are planning a first stage drilling project which would see seven to 10 deep holes into the site.

The project at Bannockburn will see 250 truck loads taken to Virginitown, in Kirkland Lake to be processed.

Centre of attention: Although he couldn't be persuaded to sing some songs, Ernie Hamilton did take up the microphone to offer words of gratitude to those who helped make Saturday's Terry Fox Run "kick-off" buffet at the Station House a tremendous success. He had special words for Marie and Lyle Bright of the Station House, and for the ten performers who brought their unique musical talents to Havelock for the occasion. Ernie hopes to raise $16,000 with this year's run -- his 13th in support of Terry Fox's dream. Above, Ernie gets some over-the-shoulder attention from Emcee, Kevin Rowsell, and local recording star Debbie Drummond.

Terry Fox songstress: Sherry-Lou Glancy of Havelock offered crystalline interpretations of several songs during Saturday evening's Terry Fox Run "kick-off" buffet at the Station House Restaurant in Havelock. The entertaining event marked the beginning of Ernie Hamilton's Terry Fox fundraising drive which he hopes will reach $16,000 by the time September rolls around. Several other performers, including Ryan Mahoney of Campbellford, Dennis Hornsby of Havelock, Allan Stillwell of Havelock, Desma Clarke of Peterborough, Len Carr of Havelock, Katie Gushue of Havelock, Debbie Drummond of Havelock and Kevin Rowsell of Campbellford, appeared during the evening. ## Govt. axing of land tax rebate enrages conservation authorities

Peterborough - Over 100,000 hectares of environmentally-sensitive land in Ontario acquired by conservation authorities over the past 50 years may have to be sold off because of announced provincial cutbacks.

This past week, the Ontario government slashed its budget for conservation authorities by almost one-third or $11 million.

Local conservation authorities will be unable to pay taxes on these lands as a result of cutbacks and therefore many wetlands, Niagara Escarpment lands, flood plains, conservation parks and forests may no longer be protected.

"We are absolutely dismayed by the government's unilateral decision to put these lands in jeopardy," says Richard Turkheim, Executive Director of the Association of Conservation Authorities of Ontario (ACAO).

"Coming as it did during Earth Week, this announcement was especially cruel," Mr. Turkheim said.

"While other jurisdictions around the world are focused on improving their protection of environmentally-sensitive lands, here in Ontario the government appears to have decided to give up on 50 years of effort by conservation authorities and the public to protect wetlands and preserve our natural resources," he said.

Budget cuts by the Ontario government reduced operating grants to conservation authorities by $5 million, capital spending by $2 million and the Conservation Land Tax Rebate Program by $3.6 million -- a total reduction in provincial support of 32 per cent this year.

"This is a direct assault on the environment," Mr. Turkheim said. "This ill-conceived

Mortgage guarantee program to help young farmers, Ontario Ag. minister says

Queen's Park - Helping young people to take over farms, and helping other people get into agriculture, is the purpose of the private mortgage guarantee program announced recently, says provincial Minister of Agriculture Elmer Buchanan.

"The program is one of five elements in our agriculture investment strategy," the Hastings-Peterborough MPP says.

"The program provides money privately at a good rate. It will allow for inter-generational transfers," Mr. Buchanan said.

"Parents can retire and take back the mortgage with a son or a daughter with the support of this government program behind the mortgage so that there's some guarantee."

"Part of the program," Mr. Buchanan says, "will allow people to re-mortgage and lower their costs and ultimately then put the money back in farmer's pockets."

"This program was very much designed by farmers for farmers with the support of government," he says.

"We began work on it in the fall of 1990 with a task force headed by my parliamentary assistant Pat Hayes meeting with farmers and farm organizations across the province."

Multiple Sclerosis fundraiser Putting the 'drive' in carnation drive

Peterborough - The Peterborough Chapter of the Multiple Sclerosis Society is teaming up with 980 KRZ Radio to deliver carnations via an instant carnation hotline during its annual Carnation Sale May 7.

"Some people simply can't get away from the office or place of employment to buy the flowers," says Gordon Gibb, who will be piloting the "980 KRZer with 'Zeddy,'" the Zellers furry mascot, most of the day.

The "Carnation Hotline," as of 9 am May 7, will be 740-4150. "Zeddy's participation is a big plus in light of Zellers' ongoing and generous support of the Multiple Sclerosis Society," says Gibb.

Carnation sales to the public will begin on May 7 in more than 30 locations across Peterborough, Bridgenorth and Millbrook.

In Peterborough, St. Alphonsus School students will be selling flowers at all three gates of Canadian General Electric and at Kawartha Credit Union on Monaghan Road.

Street sales of the carnations will continue through May 8.

Multiple Sclerosis is a disease of the central nervous system affecting an estimated 50,000 Canadians. MS afflicts more young adults in Canada than any neurological disorder.

Order of Ontario Recipients

Twenty-one outstanding Ontarians are being invested in the Order of Ontario this year.

The Order of Ontario is the most prestigious award that the province can bestow upon its citizens. It recognizes and honours individuals who have enriched our society by attaining the highest standards of excellence and achievement in their chosen field of endeavour.

"As her Majesty's representative in Ontario, it is my privilege to congratulate this year's recipients of the Order of Ontario, and thank them for their outstanding contribution to the life of this province," said Lieutenant Governor Henry Jackman. "These remarkable people, many of whom have earned international acclaim, have contributed to Ontario's reputation as a centre of innovation, achievement and excellence. They are an inspiration to us all."

The 21 individuals being recognized were selected from approximately 160 nominations considered by an Advisory Council comprised of the Chief Justice of Ontario, the Speaker of the Legislative Assembly, the Secretary of Cabinet and Clerk of the Executive Council. They were honoured at a special ceremony at Queen's Park on Tuesday, May 4th, when Lieutenant Governor Jackman invested them in the Order and bestowed upon them its insignia: a stylized trillium in white and green enamel, edged in gold.

The distinguished recipients are:

Dr. Roberta Bondar, Sault Ste. Marie: Canada's first female astronaut to fly in space.

Pat Capponi, Toronto: Dedicated mental health care advocate and author.

Jean-Gabriel Castel, Toronto: Law professor with an international reputation as an author, editor and arbitrator.

Dr. Budhendra Doobay, Oakville: Head of vascular surgery at Hamilton Civic Hospital, president of Voice of Vedas and leading spokesperson for Ontario's Hindu community.

Grace Hartman, Willowdale: Former general vice president of Canadian Labour Congress and national president of Canadian Union of Public Employees.

Dr. Daniel G. Hill, Don Mills: Former Ontario ombudsman and a leading authority on human rights, race relations and Black history in Canada.

Thomas V. Hill, Ohsweken: Respected curator of the Indian Museum at the Woodland Cultural Centre who promotes Native art around the world.

Murray B. Koffler, Willowdale: Philanthropist and founder of the Shoppers Drug Mart chain.

Dr. Paul Rekai, Toronto: Founder of the Central Hospital, which provides medical services in a variety of languages and the Rekai division of the Social Action Centre, a multilingual nursing home.

Mary Alice Stuart, Toronto: Chairperson and CEO of CIRT-FM and chairperson of the University of Toronto's $100 million Breakthrough Campaign.

William G. Tamblyn, Thunder Bay: Successful engineer and first president of Lakehead University.

Dr. Shirley Van Hoof, London: Active member of the Multiple Sclerosis Society of Canada and chair of the Ontario Advisory Council on Disability Issues and the Ontario Committee.

Donald J.P. Ziraldo and Karl J. Kaiser, Niagara-on-the-Lake: Co-founders of the internationally renowned and award-winning Inniskillin Wines.

Jean On The Farm asks to try and picture this cooking in her grandmother's cookstove: the aroma making your mouth water.

Baked Sausage Dinner

- 1 lb. Sausage
- 1 cup all-purpose flour
- 1 cup milk
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 eggs

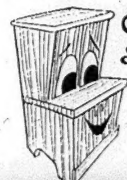

Place sausage in pan 8" x 11". Heat in hot oven to dry out some of the fat. Beat eggs in bowl, add milk and sifted flour and salt. Beat with an egg-beater until smooth. Pour around sausage in sizzling hot pan. Bake at 400 degrees F. for 15-20 minutes or until puffy, then reduce heat and bake for about 15-20 minutes longer. Keep an eye on it. Serve with baked beans or creamed corn, salad and rolls. Try it with paprika before putting in oven.

Chow, see you next week.

Recognizing excellence: Jean Woodburn and Ken Wilford of Norwood District High School were honoured Friday by the Peterborough County Board of Education during the "kick-off" ceremonies for Education Week. Jean, a guidance and computer secretary, and Ken, a custodian at NDHS, were presented with Certificates of Recognition by PCBE Chair, Barb Jinkerson. Only two others received certificates. ## Trees for Canada, Apple Day major fundraisers for local scouting movement

The Trent Valley District Scouting movement includes Havelock, Norwood, Warsaw, Campbellford, Warkworth and Hastings.

To date they have a total of 321 registered members including youths and leaders. These youths and leaders are very active in each of their respective communities.

For the year 1991-92 all communities were involved in Canada 125 celebrations, Santa Claus parades, local fairs, helping sponsors with Bingos, doing Pitch-In activities and any other community events they are asked to participate in.

Events organized by the District for the members include Beavorees; Cuborees, Kub Kar rallies, Operation-Alert and Jamboree on the Air.

In 1992-93 scouting got a new face lift by going co-ed in every section, if they wished.

This year's Beavoree will be held at Warsaw Public School on May 29. The Cuboree will be held at Langley Park.

Events held just recently include a Kub Kar Rally in Havelock on April 18; a Operation-Alert at Ferris Park on April 23-25 and Norwood and Hastings participated in Pitch-In by cleaning up their respective downtown areas.

The major fundraiser of the year is Apple Day which is held sometime in October, and Trees for Canada which is held the first Saturday of May each year. This year trees were planted at the Norwood Conservation area on May 1.

Trent Valley District Scouting movement is looking for a planting site for next year. What is needed is seven to 10 acres of land for approximately 7,000 trees. If you can help us please contact Brian Toms at 1-705-778-3474 after 6 p.m. for more information.

A 'Hurricane' force sweeps through HPS

Hastings - Go Hurricanes Go!!

How about that? Yes, students at Hastings Public School have decided that their school teams will become a Hurricane-like force on the local sports scene. Certainly they will be after being officially named the Hastings Hurricanes.

Students are now submitting ideas of what the caricature should look like and what the school colours should be. Suggestions are always welcome.

The school's logo contest is still underway. Perhaps the Hurricane nickname will provide some added inspiration.

School principal, Elizabeth Thomson reports that Kathy Jo Duff has completed the drawing of the school and that is now in the hands of the printer. School hasty notes should be ready by September.

"On behalf of the Hastings Public School community, thank you Kathy Jo. It is a reflection of the great talent we have in the community," Mrs. Thomson said.

move directly may leave us powerless to protect our environment and natural resources for future generations."

As the single largest owner of wetlands in the province, conservation authorities are concerned that this budget could not only halt the protection of these lands, but it could accelerate their extinction, he said.

"On April 13, the Throne Speech proclaimed the government's commitment to the environment. Ten days later, the budget signalled that the environment is for sale. It just doesn't make sense."

"We are willing and active partners in the process to help find solutions to the government's current financial problems," Mr. Turkheim said.

"But this budget has implications far beyond financial considerations," he said. "It goes to the very heart of our priorities as a society."

"All we ask is for the government to sit down and negotiate in good faith with us so that we can continue to preserve these vital lands."

Conservation authorities are community-based environmental protection agencies working in partnership with the provincial government and 497 member municipalities and 11 regional governments across the province to protect local watersheds.

Card Of Thanks

The Family of the late Nancy Gordon would like to thank all relatives and friends who offered their support, sympathy and cards following her sudden death. Special thanks are extended to the Royal Canadian Legion and Ladies Auxiliary Branch 237 for their service and for the luncheon following the funeral. All help was greatly appreciated.

The Family of Don Donaldson wish to thank for their many kind relatives, friends and neighbours at this time of loss. We feel blessed to have each one of you. The love and kindness and overall support we were above and beyond. There were generous expressions of sympathy such as cards, flowers, donations, food, kind words, and most of all invaluable support. Mr. McInerney, ambulance attendants, and hospital staff were exceptionally thoughtful. Thanks do not seem to be enough, but we sincerely ask God to bless you all for your kindness. The family for Donaldson family Pat, Pam, Wayne and Nancy.

ST. John's A.C.W. Madoc: Thank everyone

We Would like to thank everyone who was so kind to our family during the recent death of husband & father, for all the flowers and donations that were sent really meant a lot to us as such a sad loss. We will never

Senior Badminton Doubles competition was played on Thursday, April 22. In mixed doubles Jeanna Bontar and Spooner Prentice-Collins won the gold medal. In boys doubles Tom Burnside and Gavin Treanor finished third and Tim Pell and Brad McNevin took seventh.

They're expecting a better game result on Thursday.

Niki Rowland, Laura McNeil and Monique Godin did very well at COSSA gymnastics in Peterborough. Niki placed fifth overall out of 12 girls in level 5 gymnastics. She placed third on the floor and fifth on the bars at COSSA. This qualified her to go on to the OFSSA meet which was held in Toronto on April 29. Laura placed sixth on the floor exercise in level 3. Monique placed sixth on the bars in level 2. Congratulations to all!

The drama students worked very hard to put together a good performance of "Still Stands the House". Students and visitors were treated to an excellent performance. Congratulations to Mr. Pilon and Miss Henderson who acted as student coaches.

Miss O'Riordan and students went to OISS and participated in a seminar of the Holocaust Remembrance. This marked the 50th anniversary of the Holocaust. The students' day consisted of meeting people who were part of the resistance or were in concentration camps.

Mandy Bonisteel will be coming to talk to various students in Grade 11 and 12 about sexual assault and violence in relationships.

April 27 - 30 was record breaking week at CHSS. CHIC arranged a variety of events including finding the students who had the biggest feet, could hula the most hoops, and could build the tallest card building. All the students that participated had a lot of fun. The next CHIC fun event will be Gamerama coming up May 27

Car accident kills three in Madoc Township

by Jeff Wilson

Three Kitchener residents died and a fourth passenger was injured when their car left Highway 7, east of Madoc travelling through the ditch, striking a chain link fence and rolling.

The single-car accident occurred shortly after 7 a.m. on Monday, May 3.

The three young men killed were Christien Marcel Burca, 19, Sorin-Ioan Mihaila, 18 and Florin Sirbu, 19 all of Kitchener. The fourth passenger Alin Ruta, 19, also of Kitchener was taken to Kingston General Hospital in serious condition with head injuries.

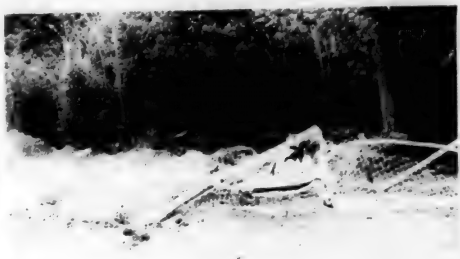

The four were thrown from Mihaila's 1989 Daytona during the accident.

The four were reported business partners who were planning to open a bakery last Saturday.

According to Daniella Toma, a classmate of the four at Kitchener-Waterloo Collegiate they were inseparable friends who never drank alcohol.

Relatives said they were unsure why the four were in the area after attending a wedding in Kitchener the previous night.

The four occupants of this 1989 Daytona were thrown from the car. Three were killed in the accident, while the other was seriously injured. The car left Highway 7 in front of IKO Industries and entered the ditch and then struck the chain link fence pictured below.

The 65 booths were filled with over 50 exhibitors and the total attendance was over 1,500.

Special thanks to Gerry and Ralph for getting the arena ready, Fran and Deryk London for their tireless effort, full Kiwanis Club of Madoc membership and Madoc Fire Department members who assisted at the Food Booth and clean-up, making this a community effort.

The draw prize winners were: gas barbecue - E. Lunau of RR2 Marmora; chaise longue - Bobbi Miller of Madoc; Coleman cooler - Don Creelman of RR4 Stirling; Pepsi Sports Bag - Don Swainson of RR2 Marmora.

Madoc Village waiting for word on transfer payment cuts

by Jeff Wilson

After passing a zero per cent increase in their budget for 1993, Madoc Village is awaiting word, along with all the other municipalities in Ontario, on how much their transfer payment from the province will be cut.

In a newsletter from the Association of Municipalities of Ontario (AMO) it stated transfer payments to municipalities will be cut 11.4 per cent.

Madoc Village Clerk/Treasurer Doug Parks said that would translate to a loss of $17,380 of its $158,000 in unconditional grants for 1993. The unconditional grants go into the village's general government account with the monies being spent as the municipality sees fit, Parks said.

The AMO newsletter stated that the 11.4 per cent decrease in transfer payment would not be across the board with some municipal receiving more of a decrease and others a lower decrease.

To make financial matters worse, Parks said he has heard that unconditional recreation grants are possibly also being cut. The village receives a maximum allowed, which is $6,000.

Parks said he didn't know if the village could absorb a possible $23,000 reduction in grants from the provincial government.

In an effort to raise funds the village recently put lots on Francis Street up for sale. The money raised is going to be put towards a public works barn.

Centra Gas approves of village's land sale proposal

by Jeff Wilson

Centra Gas has agreed to Madoc Village's terms of sale of a piece of land for its distribution station.

The Village offered to sell a piece of its property beside the fire hall to Centra Gas for $20,000, with that amount being subtracted from the $95,000 it must contribute to the project.

In a letter from D.M. Pearo,

Land and Tax Supervisor, Centra Gas it stated company had "secured final approval in principle" for the proposed purchase, namely $20,000.

The letter also stated, "regard to Council's proposal to reduce the amount of contribution by $20,000, we are in agreement with your approach."

Snowmobile Club looking to create trail through Madoc

by Jeff Wilson

The Centre Hastings Snowmobile Club is currently seeking funding to construct a snowmobile trail through Madoc to link up with the Heritage trails in Eldorado.

President Verna Peters and Jim Watson attended village council to request support for their Community Futures application to receive federal funding.

Council voted to support the club's proposal to create a trail through Madoc.

During their presentation Jim Watson said the club seeking support from council before they had submitted their proposal.

Watson said snowmobile use has increased substantially this past winter and the development of a trail through Madoc could be to the economic advantage of businesses.

Watson stressed the club is not looking for any funding from council.

Foley Bus Lines announce takeover

Duane Foley, President of Foley Bus Lines Ltd. of Marmora Township, announced this week the takeover of Trentway-Wagner's line run from Bancroft to Belleville.

Purchase of the route took place over the winter months and was finalized last week.

The run starts at the Bancroft Post Office every Friday morning at 8 a.m., stopping at key points at every municipality along Highway 62.

In Belleville, stops are made at the main entrance of the Quinte Mall and at the Belleville Bus Terminal on Bell Boulevard.

The return trip leaves Quinte Mall at 6 p.m., again stopping at scheduled points along the way. In Madoc Village, stops are made at the seniors' apartments on Wellington Street as well as on St.

Lawrence Street West in front of the Co-operators Insurance across from the bank.

Although the run presently operates on Fridays only, Duane said he would consider running one other day each week, perhaps on Mondays, if there is enough interest shown.

The bus has designated pick-up points where it stops regularly to check for passengers, but it also operates on a flag-to-stop system at any point along the route. Which means, if you wish to be picked up at any spot along Highway 62, just flag it down as you see the bus approaching. A parcel express is also being offered.

Since the rates are reasonable and the response has been favorable, Duane is quite optimistic about the future of this new facet of his ever-growing business.

Suspect caught after bank robbery

A 45-year-old transient caused some excitement locally last Thursday after he robbed the Toronto-Dominion Bank in Marmora, only to be arrested along Highway 7, heading west, a short time later.

Walter Russell Maddison, of no fixed address, walked into the TD bank around noon on May 6. He proceeded to a teller, said nothing, but demanded money via a note. No weapon was used.

According to police, Maddison was given $1,043 and he left on foot. After hiding in the park for awhile, Maddison decided to hitchhike west along Highway 7 where he was apprehended a short time later by police. All the money was recovered.

Maddison was held in custody at the Quinte Detention Centre pending a bail hearing scheduled for May 7 in Belleville.

YOUR LOCAL REAL ESTATE AND CLASSIFIED MARKETPLACE

Natural cycle of products tap into concerns about health

Havelock - Nutrition for Life International is at the crossroads of major trends in both in health care and marketing, says Bruce Fulton of Buckhorn, an enthusiastic champion of the more than 250 natural products offered by this burgeoning company.

He and his wife Melanie, along with Judy and Ted Petherick of Havelock, have set out to introduce Nutrition for Life's impressive catalogue of natural products to area residents. They took time out last week to discuss why these products, and the company that markets them, has made such a splash.

One of the major trends in the 1990s and into the year 2000 will be network marketing. Mr. Fulton says adding that network marketing is just an "alternative system for distributing goods."

Through this system it is a lot easier and cheaper to distribute goods, he explains.

This particular type of marketing system has become so successful that it receives scholarly attention from university and college business schools, Mr. Fulton said.

By 1989, he adds, one-quarter of all new millionaires came from this kind of marketing.

Mr. Fulton admits that a "lot are suspect" but Nutrition for Life has been in business for ten years and is "very ethical."

Before Mr. Fulton, with 11 years experience in the pharmaceutical business, and his wife made their decision to begin marketing these products they travelled to Nutrition For Life's headquarters in Houston to "check it all out."

"I liked the integrity of the people," said Bruce. "It is financially stable."

This is not an illegal pyramid thing, he says, simply an alternative system for delivering goods.

"We share a vision of good health and nutrition," says Nutrition For Life International president, David Bertrand.

NDHS track and field Knights gather up 22 firsts in Cobourg

Cobourg - Norwood High's track and field team kicked off their '93 season in fine style racking up 22 first place finishes Thursday at the South Kawartha championships at Cobourg East. The top four finishers go on to the Kawartha finals this week in Peterborough.

Norwood athletes also managed to come up with four second place finishes, 13 thirds and eight fourths.

Twenty-seven track and field Knights will represent the school in 47 different events at Trent University.

Four veterans of the track program and a rookie led the way under sunny skies and around a badly-conditioned track. All returned with double first place performances.

Heather Richardson turned in a 200 m and 400 m double while Leslie Henderson dashed ahead of everyone else to take the 100m and 400 m hurdles. Brian Woodcock was a double hurdle winner taking the 110 m and 300 m events.

Sprinter Jennifer Russell came home with a 100 m and 200 m double while first-year team member John Van Allen powered his way to a first in the 200 m and then grabbed a first in the discuss.

Single individual winners at Cobourg included Mike Moore, 100 m; George Edwards, javelin; Kelly McArthur, discuss; Kirk VanWill, 800 m; Jackie Galica, 400 m; Don Clarke, long jump; Trish Chartrand, shot put; Melanie Dunford, javelin; Andrew Scott, discuss and the midjet boys and girls and senior boys 400 metre relay teams.

Jackie Galica, Jeanine Ward, Michelle Chard and Richard Harris collected the four second place finishes.

George Edwards led the way with two third place finishes with Jeff Menzies, Jennifer

Area's top golfers will visit Oakland Greens for annual open tourney

Norwood - Watson Tidd of Warkworth is all set to defend his Oakland Greens Open championship at the Norwood area club this Saturday.

But he will be pushed by a field of more than 80 golfers that will include 1991 champ Frank Carlow of Norwood, who took last year's "B" Flight Low Gross championship, and another Oaklands golfer, Reg Nelson, who carded a 71 Low Net score in the last year's "A" Flight.

With a prize table worth at least $2,000 (based on a full field) and four hole-in-one rewards totalling $20,598, this year's open is the perfect way to kick off the Ontario Golf Association (OGA) season in this area.

"This has always been one of the first OGA tournaments in the area and a lot of golfers use it as a warm up," Oakland Greens' General Manager Dick Burgess said last week.

Golfers from Peterborough, Belleville and Toronto and many of the district clubs are expected to tee off at the 6,127 yd. par 71 course.

This year's Open is a little earlier this year and benefits from the change of date escap ing Victoria Day holiday weekend conflicts.

Mr. Burgess says there are still openings for the tourney.

The $50 entry fee includes a free practice round, a "bag-o-balls" for a driving range warm-up, prizes and the buffet dinner.

Last year's Open championship drew four times as many golfers as it had in 1990 when it was known as the Men's Spring Invitational so the word is out and the competition is good.

For more information about the Oakland Open, or to reserve carts in advance, give the Club a call at 896-2915.

While things are falling nicely into place for the Oakland Open, tournament organizers at the club are welcoming entries for the Oakland Greens Ladies Spring Invitational.

Rosemary Brown nominated to head Ontario Human Rights Commission

Ontario Premier Bob Rae and Minister of Citizenship Elaine Ziemba announced the nomination of noted human rights activist and feminist Rosemary Brown as Chief Commissioner of the Ontario Human Rights Commission (OHRC).

"Rosemary Brown has taken on many challenges during her distinguished career - she has been a social worker, politician, educator, writer and outspoken advocate for human rights here in Canada and abroad," said Ms. Ziemba. "In all these capacities and more, she has earned a reputation for hard work, perseverance, fairness and a selfless dedication to helping the disadvantaged in our society."

"We are honoured to nominate a person of such outstanding calibre for the position of Chief Commissioner of the Human Rights Commission. Ms. Brown's commitment, experience and expertise will be a great asset to this government as it moves forward with its social justice agenda."

A social worker by profession, Ms. Brown was the first Black woman ever elected to a federal or provincial political office in Canada. She served as a member of the British Columbia Legislature for 14 years. Since her retirement from politics in 1986, Ms. Brown has been active as a writer and lecturer. She is a Special Ambassador for MATCH International Centre, a development organization working with women in the Third World, and regularly participates in national and international conferences on human rights, women's issues and peace.

Ms. Brown is associated with many national and community organizations. A founder of the Vancouver Status of Women Council and member of the Canadian Centre for Policy Alternatives, she sits on the boards of the Canadian Women's Foundation, the Canadian Auto Workers Social Justice Fund, Queen's University, the Association of Black Educators of Canada, the North-South Institute and South African Education Trust Fund.

Ms. Brown was recently sworn in as a member of the Privy Council and appointed to a five-year term on the Security Intelligence Review Committee which monitors the operations of the Canadian Security Intelligence Service and reviews complaints.

Other awards and distinctions include the National Black Award of Canada in 1972, a Human Rights Fellowship from the United Nations in 1973, and the 1989 Ontario Meritorious Award from the Women Teachers of Ontario. Ms. Brown also holds honorary doctorates from a long list of universities, including seven in Ontario - Toronto, York, Windsor, McMaster, Guelph, Queen's and Ryerson Polytechnical Institute.

Born in Jamaica, Ms. Brown came to Canada in 1950. An autobiography about her experiences in politics, "Being Brown" was published in 1989. Ms. Brown was also featured in the 1988 National Film Board film "No Way, Not Me" and hosted the 1987 TV Ontario series "Women and Politics".

This recipe is from "Jean on the Farm".

Jean's two boys love these cookies with a tall glass of milk when they come home from school.

1 teaspoon baking powder
2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon allspice

"ONE FOR THE MONEY"

A veritable treasure trove of student talent was unveiled at the Havelock-Beimont Public School last week during Education Week. This production, involving all students, centred around money, thus the title "One for the Money." An appropriate topic considering it came on the heels of income tax time. Most parents in the audience could relate to at least one of the topics presented. Congratulations to all who worked to present such a fine piece of entertainment.

Natural cycle of products tap into concerns about health

Underlying the vision are a family of products that allow us all to harness the remarkable power of nature and live longer, more balanced lives in harmony with the world around us.

The company offers eight different product lines which offer "healthier alternatives" for nutrition, personal care and household cleaning.

There is everything from filtration systems, food and weight management and vitamins and minerals to herbal formulas, cleaning concentrates and homeopathics and special formulas.

The eight product lines, in fact follow a "Nutrition for Life Cycle" with each product forming a vital part of a health program.

Talking about one product line, the homeopathics, Mr. Fulton said they are something that have been used for hundreds of years but have seen a resurgence in the past 20 years.

"They help your body by stimulating your immune system so the body heals itself."

Products offered by Nutrition for Life include Requin 3, a shark cartilage product, and has received a lot of positive attention from the medical and health community, Mr. Fulton said.

Requin 3 is French for shark.

As a result of research conducted with this, he said, the television show, "60 Minutes," devoted a segment to Requin 3 and its health benefits, along with other company products.

One of the reasons for other people's interest in cancer and osteoarthritis is that a "mystery substance" found in shark cartilage may be responsible. Scientists at MIT discovered that this substance slows the growth of new blood vessels toward solid tumours and cuts off tumour growth and angiogenesis.

In Science Magazine, Dr. Robert Langer reports that the substance significantly inhibited vessel formation around tumours implanted in rabbits without causing any toxic effects.

Mr. Fulton says Shark Cartilage is being used in cancer treatments and as an anti-inflammatory for osteoarthritis and rheumatoid arthritis and is totally non-toxic. Homeopathics have used remedies from healthy animal tissues for years, most commonly from cows and sheep. The shark cartilage discovery means they will use other sources for these remedies as well.

The fact that there are now three Naturopaths in Peterborough suggests that natural alternatives are "becoming more and more accepted."

Mr. Fulton says that Nutrition For Life's vitamin and mineral products are "still the biggest sellers." There are eight pages devoted to vitamins and minerals in the company's colourful catalogue.

"People are more aware of drugs and are looking for natural remedies," he said.

"And there is a real potential to make good money," Mr. Fulton added.

He says three types of people join up with Nutrition For Life.

There are those who just want to use the product and they can get them wholesale and shipped directly. Then are those who use the products but also want to make a few hundred dollars by recommending the products to other people.

These people, he said, receive bonuses from the network market company.

The third type of person involved, Mr. Fulton said, are those who want to build up a business by going out and talking to a lot of people. Financial independence is a goal.

Whole companies, he said, have been built up on one Nutrition For Life product.

The program has the flexibility to do that.

The company's top five shareholders, he adds, have assets totalling over $1 billion. And one of the major shareholders is a Canadian.

And it is "just going like crazy," Mrs. Fulton adds.

"Nobody can get hurt doing this," Mr. Fulton said. "You buy at your own discretion and for what you need."

There is no "front end loading," he said, meaning no one is going to get stuck with a garage full of filtration systems.

And with its emphasis on health and natural products everything is "completely safe."

Although Nutrition For Life International appeared in Canada only in October, its success has the company thinking of opening up a warehouse in this country within the year, Mr. Fulton said. They are also looking into manufacturing here as well.

Anyone who wants more information about Nutrition For Life International and its catalogue of products should call Judy and Ted Petherick at (705) 778-2757 or Bruce and Melanie Fulton at (705) 657-2179.

Audrey McLaughlin visit changed to June 18

Peterborough - Scheduling changes in Audrey McLaughlin's pre-election travels will bring the federal NDP leader to Peterborough June 18 instead of a previously announced May 5th date.

A noon luncheon called "Women Talking to Audrey" will be held at the Ramada Inn. A town hall meeting, planned for the evening, has been postponed to another time because Ms. McLaughlin has an evening event in Toronto.

"At the luncheon, McLaughlin will speak on 'women and the economy' and respond to comments and questions from the women in the audience," says Peterborough Federal NDP candidate Merv Richards.

The luncheon is open to the public," Mr. Richards added. Ms. McLaughlin will mingle with lunch guests from 11:30 until noon and afterwards. The luncheon will end at 1:30 pm. Tickets are available by calling 1-(705)-876-9041.

Oakland Greens still has golf league openings

Norwood - The warm weather is here and you've polished off the golf clubs and visited the driving range a few times. The only thing left to do is get out on the links.

Well, for golfers with a yen for league play Oakland Greens Golf and Country Club near Norwood still has openings (except Tuesday night) for all of its various leagues - everything from Seniors Mixed and Juniors to a Ladies nine-hole league for beginning or minimally experienced golfers.

And to satisfy the demand for two-man league play for men, which quickly filled up all Tuesday evening spots, the Club is organizing a Wednesday evening league for those who didn't make the Tuesday sign-up.

If you don't have a team-mate league organizers will arrange for golf partners. They are also "flexible" in arranging spares if you can't make it on one of the Wednesday nights.

There is a Tuesday morning 18-hole open league which tees off at 9 a.m.; a Wednesday morning Senior Men's League teeing off at 9 a.m. and a Senior Mixed League teeing off two hours later at 11 a.m.

The Thursday Night Ladies League is a nine-hole arrangement catering to brand new and beginning golfers. Ladies involved in this league will get golfing lessons for the first four weeks.

Last year's Junior Program was very successful and Oakland Greens General Manager Dick Burgis expects another good registration of younger golfers.

He says there are already quite a few new ones and many of these youthful golfers will bring their friends.

Not only do the juniors get a chance to golf, they learn about the sport, its rules and the golf course itself receiving instruction, spotting during tournaments and doing some club-washing to earn money.

They are also involved in a "mini-tour" which will take them to the Warkworth Golf Club, Newcastle, Tamarac in Fennismore and Katchiwano near Lakefield. They are also encouraged to enter other local junior tournaments.

For more information on league play at Oakland Greens call Mr. Burgis at 696-2915.

Public speakers honoured: Irene Toshoff, past president of Royal Canadian Legion, Branch 300 in Norwood, presented special certificates to NDPS students Leslie Suhr and Maryann Deen last Tuesday morning. The certificates recognized their achievements in this year's Legion public speaking contest.

Aerobics, Jane Fonda-style, takes over NDHS lecture hall

By Cory Mathews

Norwood - This week's column begins with the story of our own NDHS Track and Field athletes. Our Michael Smith and Bruny Surin hopefuls competed in their first track meet held at Cobourg East last Thursday.

The athletes represented our school very well with 22 first place ribbons, four second place ribbons, 13 third place ribbons and seven fourth place ribbons.

Our Norwood spirit was heard above the crowd as the students cheered on their fellow Norwoodites through the finish line. Norwood will compete again on May 13 at the Kawartha meet being held at Trent University. Norwood will compete in 47 events there. Congratulations to all members of the team and good luck to them as you compete in your future meets.

NDHS track

VanWill, Deanna McArthur, Don Clarke, Terry Ayrett, Fred Holder, Kirk VanWill, Richard Harris, Jeff Beavis, the senior girls 400 metre relay team and the 1600 "B" relay team also earning third place ribbons.

Final Kawartha qualifying spots went to Charlie Drummond, Sara Dunford, Kelly McArthur, Jeremy Partington, Leslie Henderson, Jennifer Burtney, the junior girls 400 metre relay team and the 1600 metre "A" relay team.

While we are talking about exercise, every Tuesday after school aerobics is held in the lecture hall. This heart-pounding and calorie-burning exercise class is led by Norwood High's own: Jane Fonda, otherwise known as Miss Joanne Rough.

Each class gets approximately 25 to 30 students to jump, bend and stretch for an hour. If there are any more interested students, come on out Tuesday afternoons. Everyone is welcome.

Congratulations to Andrew Scott, Rob Walsh, Alison Buchanan, Margaret Chamberlain, Nelson Sabourin and

Paul Grant. Last Tuesday night (May 4) these six special people received Awards of Excellence in Education.

These awards were given to those students who contribute significantly to the life of our school. Congratulations once again to all the award winners.

It is amazing to think that these past few weeks have been going by so fast. So before winter comes again, get out and enjoy that beautiful sunshine. But remember, U-V Rays are at their highest this year!!

And, speaking of successes - the Careers Day held at CHSS on Monday, May 3 was nothing short of a tremendously successful day. Seminars by many local speakers from various professions could be heard throughout periods A, B and D classes. A giant congratulations and thank-you goes out to all the co-ordinators and speakers who made the day enjoyable.

Race Car Driver Brad Freeman took the opportunity to show off his car to Madoc Public School last Tuesday afternoon. A few classes at the school came out and had the chance to sit in the car, hear it start-up and write their names on it.

Local resident burning up the track in Brighton

by Jeff Wilson

For Brad Freeman a long time dream has finally come true: he is racing in his own race car.

Freeman took the opportunity to show off his car to some of the students at Madoc Public School last Tuesday afternoon. He showed the students the equipment used in racing, allowed them to sit in the car, started it up for them and allowed them to sign their names on it.

Freeman races on the clay track in Brighton in the Late Model Class. Races are every Saturday evening under the lights.

The Late Model class appealed to Freeman for three reasons: speed, prize money and opportunities to travel.

The class is the fastest of the three run out of Brighton. The cars run at between 5,500 and 6,500 r.p.m.'s and reach speeds of about 86 m.p.h. in the straightaways, Freeman said.

The prize money in the class is the largest. The late models also run out of Brockville and two tracks in New York State at Lafarge and Evans Mills.

The late model class was more appealing to Freeman because he said its the most expensive of the three to run in, therefore the drivers have more respect for their machines. He said engines cost between $3,000 to $5,000 and the bodies go for between $13,000 to $15,000.

Along with his own company, Hastings Tire, Freeman solicited for sponsors to finance the operation. His other sponsors include, Hotch Auto Parts, Foley Bus Lines Ltd. and MAC Tools.

Freeman is in his rookie year, and must start in the middle pack no matter where he finishes, in the qualifying round. This is to allow him to gain experience of driving through traffic and getting a feel for his car. The racing season is just underway. Freeman has just two races under his belt.

The drivers compete in 10-lap qualifying races, trying to earn the right to race in the 25-lap feature race. The drivers receive points in both the qualifying and feature races.

The last race of the season will be Sept. 24 and 25 in Brighton.

Short list of sites to be named by June 9

by Jeff Wilson

An announcement of a short list of sites will be public during a meeting on June 9, according to a memo from consultants Proctor and Redfern to Centre and South Waste Management Board Chairman Tom Deline.

The memo states that once the board passes a resolution to re-apply the hydrogeological and agricultural criteria at Level Two in the selection process the consultants will proceed.

The results of the re-application will be presented to the Landfill Technologies Subcommittee and the Executive Committee of the board on June 2, according to the memo.

Once the re-application is approved by the two committees, landowners and tenants living in candidate site areas will be invited to attend a private meeting with members of the Executive Committee, consultants, the project's legal counsel and a representative from the Ministry of the Environment on the morning of June 9.

Local man killed in mining accident

by Jeff Wilson

A Madoc area resident was killed after he was struck by a falling object in the Canadian Tale Industries tale mine last Thursday afternoon.

At about 2:45 p.m. Bruce Lee, 37, of RR4 Madoc was working in an underground shaft when he was struck and killed.

He was transported to Belleville General Hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

Madoc OPP along with the Ministry of Labor are conducting an investigation.

Victoria Day House Tour this weekend

As the Victoria Day long weekend approaches it is time once again for the sixth annual Victoria Day House Tour sponsored by the Madoc Historical Foundation.

This year's house tour concentrates on Madoc and Elzevir Townships, as well as a few homes in Madoc Village.

Some of the homes on the tour include, the Arthur-Pitts House located in the village, it is a beautiful home set on an acre and a half in a serene park-like setting. The immaculate bungalow was built by Wilfred Symon for his sister, Mrs. Arthur in 1947.

Hazzard's Corners Heritage Church in Madoc Township is also a stop on the tour. The church was built by the Methodists to serve Hazzard's Corners area in 1857-58. In 1871 the church was enlarged which created two rows of posts forming aisles on the interior and an unusual ceiling.

The earliest home on the tour is the Taylor-Chant House, in Madoc Township, the site of the original Love House. It was originally built for Abraham Taylor in the Bolton area, this striking post and beam Georgian home was moved to its new site by the present owners. Based on a centre hall plan, the rooms seem to come alive in another era.

Tickets are $7 per person and Cont'd on page 6

The Orr-Bonter House is one of the homes on The Victoria Day House Tour sponsored by the Madoc Historical Foundation. The event will take place on Sunday, May 23 from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

This paper has 100% household coverage of Madoc & Rural Routes, Eldorado and Gilmour.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR...

Dear Editor:

On the morning of Sunday, April 18, 1993 a call came into the Mador Village Fire Department at 4:30 a.m. to respond to a house fire which had four apartments at 257 St. Lawrence St. E. As my husband and son stumbled out of bed to find their clothes and car keys, they left the house with all the other volunteer firemen to help in the fighting of the fire. I sat in the house at 4:30 a.m. with our youngest son, who woke up to say "goodbye" to his daddy and told him to be careful. I feared there may not be enough men to respond to this kind of fire.

At 5 a.m. the Ladies Auxiliary pulled together to organize coffee, muffins and sandwiches. The public also gave a helping hand.

By 8 a.m. the men were soaking wet, the auxiliary and the wives gathered up dry clothes and gloves for the men. All day long the gloves were gathered, dried and returned with a wet set to be dried all over again.

At 9 a.m. the muffins were ready for the men to eat as they fought the fire. The Auxiliary walked around to hand them coffee and muffins. The men's hands were so cold and numb they needed our help to pull their gloves off. And for them to remove the wrapping off the muffin was another problem.

As the men fought the fire they were told by the woman who lived in the one apartment that she had a cherished possession in the apartment, along with three cats. Snowball was one of the cats. She was deaf and blind because of an infection in her eyes. The woman looked through the house all day in hopes one of the cats were to come out.

Every fireman had at least one eye out for any sign of the cats.

As it reached 12 noon the men were exhausted, but they never stopped. Every man put 110 per cent into their job. Slowly but finally the fire was under control; now they had to tend to the hot spots in the roof. I feared as I watched my son and other men put a ladder up the wall to spray the inside of the apartments. Finally the house fire was out and the hot spots were contained. But the men still had one thing bothering them: the "cats" and the "cherished possession". As two men entered the apartment we sat with the single mother to comfort her. I looked up and I couldn't believe it. It was a miracle the two men exited the apartment. One with the cherished possession and the other with Snowball the deaf cat. She was alive, scared but alive. How she survived no one knows. Another cat was found outside later that day. The third one was found two days later. Now the men had to return to the hall at 4 p.m. to clean all their equipment which is also a big job.

My son and husband came home, each had a hot bath and put on clean clothes. They sat on the couch to rest and then they were called to return to the scene with other men. I felt so sorry for them all because each and every man was emotionally and physically drained.

It was just lucky we had 15 men in town that morning. In all reality we needed another 10 men at least to take shifts. I know we don't always have big fires as this one, but even a common fire requires all the men we can get. I feel 17 was not enough. Great job boys!

Sincerely,
Lynn Carswell

Historical Notes

Prime Minister Mulroney may have shot a wild boar in Russia, but closer to home in Mador Township a large lynx provided an adventure for two local boys and a township resident as reported in the Mador Mercury of May 22, 1869.

Lynx Shot - On Saturday evening the 15th instant last as Frank O'Flynn, eldest son of Mr. E.D. O'Flynn, and a companion of about the same age 13 years, were returning home to this village, after visiting some friends, they took a short cut through the woods near Hazzard's Corners.

While passing through the thickest and darkest part, they were suddenly startled by some large animal dashing past them with a savage growl; but as it was nearly dark, they could not discern clearly what the animal was.

They saw and heard enough, however, to induce them to make off at top speed by the nearest out to the high road, and while they were so doing, were hailed by Mr. P. Youngs, whose land they were crossing, and informed that the road they were travelling was a private one.

On reaching home and telling their adventure, the boys were assured by their friends that they had probably been frightened by a dog, but they stoutly maintained that the thing they had seen was not a canine. And they were right; for very shortly afterwards, and so near the spot where they got their "scare" that they heard the report of the gun. Mr. Youngs shot a large lynx, measuring four feet and a half in length.

The brute was treed by dogs, and was sixty feet from the ground when it received the fatal shot.

Some time since a lynx was heard in unpleasant proximity to some travellers at night in the Stony settlement. Tudor; but this is the first instance we are aware of, of one having been seen shot in Mador for years past.

And, of course, in honor of the opening of the pickerel season on Moira Lake May 8th last, the fishing exploits of May 1869 should not go unnoticed. Here is one tall tale from that same May 22, 1869 edition of the Mador Mercury.

Big Sport! - On the principle that "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," some of the storekeepers take advantage of the "dull times" when the farmers are hard at work, to go fishing on Hog Lake. They generally come home without much to brag of; but on Wednesday two of them (too modest to wish their names "in print" in this connection) returned triumphant from their trolling expedition having captured four muskelunge the smallest of which weighed 10 pounds, and the largest 23 pounds, and to be precise, six ounces. They also picked up one pike and one pickerel - weight of no particular consequence. If any of the boys on this side of the Lake can beat them, the champion sportsmen will believe it when they see the particulars in the Mercury.

Marlene Lee (Gilpin) Tomlinson, an MS patient since 1980, was thrilled with the 1993 Multiple Sclerosis Campaign, May 6-7 and 8. The 1993 campaign totalled $2,724.

This money goes to The Northumberland MS Chapter that assists research and to help others cope and get on with their life.

In 1982, Marlene supervised the carnation campaign in Campbellford, Stirling, Hastings and Warkworth which totalled $6,000.

In 1992, 10 years later, $1,465 was collected from 130 mini bouquets, silk carnations and cornboxes. And this year, 1993, $2,724 was taken in from 490 mini bouquets and 288 silk flowers sold in many local areas.

Members from the More Able Than Disabled club and volunteers from the Canadian Legion Branch 103 Campbellford, manned the booths, each person doing a four-hour stint.

Marlene did a great job organizing and driving around to make deliveries to six sale sites. The volunteers are to be applauded for their contributions in helping to make the MS Carnation Campaign successful. Keep up the good work.

Many thanks to Aureen Richardson for the information above.

Add salt and pepper; add your favorite seasoning if you like. Add 1/2 cup water over all and dot with butter and cover. Bake in a 300 or 325 degree oven for two hours. If necessary, add more water; just a little.

Youthful chivalry: Students in Brenda Leeming's grade six class at Warsaw Public School have become young experts in the ways of ancient knights and their damsels. The students capped a wonderfully interesting language and history session Friday afternoon with a full-blown Medieval banquet which included a parade to the "great hall," toasts and counter-toasts; a feast fit for (of course) Kings and Queens. The pageantry continued with an after-banquet dance. Their classroom was, to accent the occasion, bedecked in all the colourful trappings of a royal hideaway. Above, Sir Wayne (Ryan Freeburn) and Lady Anne (Terra Moore) present themselves to their royal peers. Students in Mrs. Leeming's class would like to thank their friends from King Edward Public School in Peterborough for joining them. Photo/Bill Freeman

Peter Norris

It was with very mixed emotions that I transferred the Holiday Ford Norwood operation back to Peterborough, but it made a great deal of economic sense to do so.

I, of course, will continue dealing in this area in a very fair and aggressive manner and now the elimination of overhead will allow me to reduce prices well beyond the competition.

I believe everybody gets fair and honest treatment at Holiday Ford, but we now have a mandate to absolutely beat any deal you have been offered in your area. I am pleased to

ATTENTION!!! NORWOOD, HAVELOCK, HASTINGS & CAMPBELLFORD RESIDENTS

advise that BOB MILNE of Keene, phone number 705-295-6325, is continuing to look after our clientele in your area and is now working out of the Peterborough Dealership.

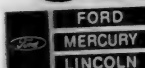

Bob has a very loyal customer base in the area and is looking forward to providing you with our new drastically reduced vehicle pricing.

Please call to allow us the opportunity to prove we mean business.

478 child care fee subsidies released for Peterborough area

Peterborough - The Ontario government is releasing up to 478 child care fee subsidies under "JobsOntario Training" to help people in the Peterborough area get back to work.

The recent announcement was made by Peterborough MPP Jenny Carter on behalf of Tony Silipo, Minister of Community and Social Services.

The spaces are part of the 8,200 fee subsidies throughout the province announced by the government in March.

Originally intended to support only participants in the "JobsOntario Training" initiative, the criteria for the fee subsidies now have been extended to help social assistance training and education programs which will lead to jobs.

Ms Carter said "The shortage of child care fee subsidies has been a barrier to parents obtaining work and supporting their families," she said.

"I know that these spaces will allow those parents to participate in job and educational opportunities they couldn't take advantage of before."

The expanded criteria will also include teen mothers who are finishing high school in order to enhance their job prospects. Ms Carter added.

OPP marine unit busy

Peterborough - More than 20 liquor charges were laid during a three-lake patrol by the Peterborough OPP's marine unit during its first weekend of action.

The two-person unit made a sweep of Pigeon, Chemong and Buckhorn Lakes checking 125 boats and ended up charging three people with operating vessels with a blood-alcohol concentrations of more than 80 milligrams.

Twenty-two other people were cited for having open spots on board the vessel.

The marine unit also charged four people with equipment offences, violations and three people with offences.

One fisherman was also found getting a head start on the pickerel season. When this boater was stopped Friday evening, before the official opening of the fishing season, he had ten pickerel in his boat.

Looking for members: Tara and Greg Stewart of the Norwood 4-H Rabbit Club show off two rabbits during a Club meeting Wednesday night. Tara and Greg invite anyone interested in rabbits to come on out and join the 4-H Club - they'd love new members. If you don't have a rabbit that's not a problem at all because they will supply you with one. The 4-H Rabbit Club is an ideal summer activity. Their next meeting is May 25. If you need more information call 639-2294. Photo/Bill Freeman

Norwood 4-H rabbit club looking for more members

Norwood - The Norwood 4-H Rabbit Club is a perfect way to introduce youngsters to 4-H activities and programs, says Norwood's Greg Stewart who, along with his father Scott and sister Tara, has helped foster local interest in this "gentle animal."

Tara was instrumental in introducing a successful rabbit show at the 1992 Norwood Fall Fair which drew nine exhibitors and 36 animals (for a 4-H and open show) while generating a great deal of excitement. "I was pretty happy for the first year," Tara said last Wednesday while standing near the rabbitry at the family's dairy farm north of the village.

"The Norwood Fair is really behind it," she said, adding that the Norwood Co-op will help out once again with sponsorship of the '93 show.

The 4-H Rabbit Club offers a perfect mixture of fun, socializing and learning about animals, father Scott says.

"It is a good program for 10 to 15-year-olds and certainly for kids from town," he says.

Greg even says kids as young as nine would enjoy the experience offered by this club.

"Because 4-H Club membership covers those 10 to 21 years it wouldn't count as a 4-H project," Greg says, "but it is a good way to get out for a year's experience."

The fact that rabbits (there are 42 recognized breeds) are very gentle animals also makes this an ideal experience for younger children, he adds. They will discuss things like how to choose a rabbit; care, feeding and nutrition; grooming; breeding stock; breeds and classes; wool, fur and fancy rabbits; judging and how to prepare for a show.

The emphasis is clearly on having a good time.

Greg says they are very easy to show.

If you pet a rabbit five minutes a night for ten days it will become accustomed to your handling and ready for showing, he said.

4-H Rabbit Club members will have an opportunity to show their animals at three shows: the Lakefield Chicken and Rabbit Show, the Peterborough Exhibition's 4-H Achievement Day and the Norwood Fair.

And they will have a chance

A student's view...

Graduated licensing: a good idea or not?

By Cory Mathews

Norwood - On May 6 it was announced by Transport Minister Gilles Pouliot that new drivers in Ontario will have to earn full licences in a 20-month, two-step process starting next spring.

This announcement has some young people grumbling.

New drivers will be allowed to drive but only if they have consumed no alcohol and have a driver with four years experience with them. New drivers will be prohibited from carrying too many passengers and driving on major highways.

They will also not be allowed to drive between midnight and 5 am.

When I asked a number of students at Norwood District High School what they thought of graduated licences there was a definite consensus - they either liked it or disliked it.

Those who liked the idea thought it was an appropriate one. The roads would become safer and the drivers would become more responsible. Of course, those who liked the idea of graduated licences are the ones who already have their own licences.

Those who disapproved of the thought of graduated licensing do not like the idea because now they won't get to go places and they feel this decision is unfair to them.

Young people represent 16 per cent of all drivers but represent more than 25 per cent of those killed in collisions. The 16-24 age group is responsible for more than one-quarter of the deaths and injuries from auto accidents.

Drivers in their first two years are three times more likely to have an accident than any other driver.

For those who dislike the decision of graduated licences, it may seem like forever before they will be fully licensed but at least they will become the better drivers on the roads for the future.

In the short term, the effects of loss of freedom will be outweighed by the long-term safety gains. Better trained and more experienced drivers will benefit everyone who uses the roadways.

(Note: Cory Mathews is a Co-operative Education student at Norwood High School and is doing her Co-op placement at the Norwood Register.)

Bow hunting cancelled in Petroglyphs Park

Increased visitation at the Petroglyphs Park, north of Norwood, has spelled the end to bow hunting there after 13 years, says the Ministry Natural Resources.

Bow hunting for deer was introduced in the park in 1981 and was popular at that time due to hunter success and the lack of bow hunting opportunities outside the park.

There are several reasons to cancel the hunt including lack of hunter participation, increased bow hunting opportunities outside the park and increased park visitation by other groups," explained Brian Pfimmer, Muskoka Zone Park Supervisor.

Approximately 25 per cent of total park visitation occurs during the fall period and conflicts between different groups is an increasing concern to the MNR.

In recent years and early bow season was introduced in WMU 60A which surrounds the Petroglyphs Park. This measure greatly increased bow hunting opportunities outside the park and may have contributed to the lack of interest.

The original hunt saw 373 hunters taking part, however, only 45 hunters participated in 1991.

Inquiries about the cancellation should be directed to Brian Pfimmer, Muskoka Zone Supervisor, Ministry of Natural Resources, Brendale Squarem Box 9000, Huntsville, Ont., P0A 1K0 or call 1-705-789-9611.

Ministry reinforces commitment to 4-H

The Ministry of Agriculture and Food has signed a new three-year agreement with the Ontario 4-H Council in support of the volunteer youth organization's activities in rural Ontario.

"This agreement reinforces our strong commitment to work with the Ontario 4-H Council toward the personal development of rural youth across the province," said Minister of Agriculture and Food Elmer Buchanan.

With the agreement, the ministry continues to be a partner with the provincial 4-H Council and its local associations in the delivery of 4-H programs, including livestock and crop production, financial management, food preparation, nutrition, recreation activities and career development.

The ministry assists local associations through its field office staff. In consultation with the Council, OMAF also provides resource materials, leadership training and recognition awards.

to talk to judges about what they look for during shows and special handling tips.

Mr. Stewart says they will move the 4-H Club meetings around.

"We will have flexible meeting times: whatever the members want," he said.

And one of the best things about the 4-H Rabbit Club is that you don't need to have your own rabbit. There are 25 at the Stewart's farm (Greg says he started out with two, sold 50 and now has 25) so there is no problem supplying animals to members.

He is also quite prepared to sell rabbits to those who might want one.

They make good pets, Greg says.

They're not nearly as expensive as dogs or cats, he says, and food is only 40 cents a pound.

"You can house-train a rabbit quicker than a cat," Greg says. "They can also be litter-trained."

The 4-H Rabbit Club will have six meetings between now and August and is a perfect summer project, Greg says.

Anyone interested in becoming a member can call Greg at 639-2294.

lawn & garden GUIDE

Create your own spectacular hanging gardens

Hanging baskets of annual flowers provide a simple way to put instant color in outdoor living areas. They're the perfect accent for porch, patio or entryway, hung from a lamp post or the lower branches of a favorite tree.

The most dramatic ones are made using wire baskets lined with sphagnum moss. This provides a unique container that can be planted with started flower transplants at the sides and bottom as well as the top. The result, when the plants fill in, is a glorious mass of bloom.

Completed baskets, especially large ones, are expensive, but you can make your own for far less and have the fun of creating a living work of art. Here's how:

Select the style and size baskets you want, along with appropriate hardware. Finished baskets are heavy, so make sure you buy sturdy hooks and brackets. You'll need enough sphagnum moss to line each - get the kind that comes in large sheets rather than the loose crumbly kind. You'll also need some lightweight potting soil mix and a good water-soluble plant food.

Don't forget the plants! Plan on using several dozen started transplants per basket. Hanging baskets were originally used to display plants that have a trailing, vinelike habit. But the "plant-all-around" technique allows you to use pretty much any annuals you like. Choose from upright-growing kinds like geraniums, marigolds and zinnias and sun-loving New Guinea impatiens.

Traditional edging plants such as ageratum and verberna work well, too. If you like the cascading effect, nasturtiums, lobelia, black-eyed susan vine (Thunbergia), ivy geraniums, and blue bells (Browallia) will all oblige.

For baskets that will hang in partial shade, begonias, impatiens, coleus are proven performers.

Putting it all together

* Soak pieces of sphagnum

moss in a bucket of water, squeeze out, and press, mossy side out, inside the frame. If you want to camouflage the top wire, you can make a neat collar by draping folded pieces over the top and tucking the ends inside.

Work around, generously overlapping the sheets of moss until the entire basket is lined. Trim the outside with scissors for a neat finish.

* Fill the basket with moistened (but not soaking) potting mix to within an inch of the top and press down firmly.

* Using a sharp knife, cut an x-shaped opening in the moss from the outside, insert a finger and wiggle it around to make a planting hole about an inch deep by an inch across. Insert a transplant and tuck soil and moss back around its crown to secure it in place.

Repeat this all around the sides, and then plant the top as you would any container.

* After you've hung the basket in place, repeat the process to fill in the bottom and complete the planting.

* Now give the entire basket-moss, soil, transplants and all - a gentle but thorough soaking with a half strength solution of a high quality water-soluble fertilizer.

Hanging baskets, especially moss-lined ones, dry out very quickly. You'll need to water at least weekly and perhaps more often in hot weather. This frequent watering leaches out nutrients, so water with fertilizer every two weeks.

* As your flowers fill in and grow, keep things trim by periodic pruning and grooming. Remove spent flower head for neatness and to encourage more blooms.

These baskets are pretty and worthy to display from the moment they're completed. And with a little care, in a few short weeks, you'll be treated to a truly breathtaking floral show that will be the center of attention wherever you choose

Beautiful, year-long evergreens by design

During the bleakest winter months, when other plants have little more to offer than bare branches and twigs, evergreens remain colorful and vibrant. For the homeowner, evergreens offer two main advantages: they are easy to maintain, and their diversity provides a plant for every landscape situation.

The variety of evergreens is almost overwhelming. The tallest may reach more than a hundred feet in height, while the tiniest are but a few inches across. Foliage color includes every imaginable shade of green, as well as blues, yellows, plum-purple and bronze. Some are bold and coarse in texture, while others are fine and delicate. This diversity makes it possible to create a garden using only evergreens or to use them selectively where needed.

A plant for every job

For an open site that is exposed to winter winds, the larger conifers make ideal windbreaks. When planted to the north and west, they will reduce heating costs as much as 20 percent and make working or playing outdoors much more pleasant.

What could be nicer than having a live tree growing in the front yard to light for Christmas?

The use of a live, potted evergreen for an indoor tree has become increasingly popular. If not kept indoors too long, it can be planted outside after the holiday to become a part of the permanent landscape.

Most any evergreen can be used as a screen or hedge, but some require less trimming or shearing to maintain the desired form and size.

Canadian hemlock makes an ideal hedge in areas where summers are not too dry and hot. It may be sheared several times a year for a well-clipped appearance, or pruned just enough to control its size if an informal hedge is preferred.

The slower-growing yews are even easier to keep sheared. They are deeper green in color, and female plants produce red berries that are attractive in the fall.

* For a low hedge or edging, the spreading yews are ideal. The Japanese hollies or ilex are even easier to keep small and tidy. Boxwoods are similar in appearance and habit to Japanese hollies and just as easy to keep trimmed.

The harder, smaller-leaved Korean boxwood can be grown where it is too cold for the more tender English boxwood or Japanese hollies. Azaleas make a colorful hedge when in bloom in the spring. However, shearing after mid-July will reduce or eliminate the bloom.

* Many evergreens are ideal for foundation planting. Pyramidal yews and junipers may be used as strong vertical forms at the corners of a house or on either side of an entrance. If a more rounded form is desired, the bold-leaved rhododendrons or finer-textured Japanese andromeda provide an added bonus of showy spring flowers.

The foundation planting can be completed with spreading yews or junipers, Japanese ilex or, in warmer climates, dwarf haindina.

* Most evergreens are available in dwarf as well as standard forms. The tiniest are mere pin cushions that are best used in special collections or miniature gardens.

Slow-growing dwarf types are ideal for foundation planting or borders, where their small size all but eliminates the need for pruning or shearing.

Most standard-sized evergreens will eventually have to be replaced in spite of rigorous pruning. This will not be the case with dwarf or slow-growing forms.

THE DIVERSITY OF EVERGREENS makes it possible to create unique garden designs and accents. It is especially important to feed your evergreens in early spring. This will pay big dividends in extra flowers and foliage later in the season.

Windowsill herbs: For memorable recipes, health and beauty aids, gift items and more

If your experience with herbs has been limited to shaking a few flakes of dried oregano out of a jar, there's a whole world of enjoyment and satisfaction you can explore right in your own kitchen.

Most herbs, including culinary (for cooking), fragrance and medicinal types, will thrive indoors in a sunny window, under fluorescent lights, or using a combination of both. Your own windowsill herb garden can supply the precious ingredients for exciting recipes, healthful herbal teas, natural, gentle cosmetics and fragrant sachets and potpourri to use at home or as thoughtful gifts.

Herbs are easy, inexpensive and truly rewarding to grow at home. Here's how:

* What kinds to choose: Herbs are available at garden centers as seeds or started transplants. Generally speaking, herbs are either annuals, which grow for a season or two and die or perennials, which can live for many years and become quite large.

Sweet Bay, for example, the secret to savory soups and stews, will grow into a medium-sized tree indoors. Other familiar culinary herbs include annuals such as basil, coriander, dill and parsley, as well as perennials such as marjoram, oregano, rosemary, sage and thyme.

You also can grow catnip, a perennial, for a nerve-soothing tea and contented housecats. Lavender, lemon verbena, and scented geraniums are all long-lived perennials that will lend their heady aromas to herbal bathwaters, sachets and potpourris. Lavage, a hardy perennial that can reach six feet indoors, has long been used to make natural mouthwashes, while both spearmint and peppermint are said to be effective against headaches and indigestion.

* How to grow herbs indoors: Whether you start herbs from seed or transplant, grow them in a light mix of potting soil with some sand or vermiculite added for good drainage.

Perennial herb seed can be started in shallow pans or flats and transplanted to individual 4-inch pots when the plants are a couple of inches tall.

Annual herbs like parsley, dill, coriander and caraway don't transplant well and should be sown in the container in which they will remain.

Keep seeded containers in a warm spot and uniformly moist until the seeds sprout, then move them into a sunny spot. If natural light is insufficient (at least four hours of sun per day) supplement it with fluorescent "grow lights." Plants growing in strong light need regular watering and feeding with a good liquid fertilizer. Using this combination you can produce a surprisingly large harvest indoors.

* Enjoying the harvest: As a general rule, you may harvest herbs gradually, snipping off a couple of inches as needed, but never removing more than about a third of the total plant.

Some herbs, especially if grown for seed (dill, is one example) might be allowed to mature, then harvested and used whole.

* Herbal vinegars: Use these to add zest to a salad, as a bracing facial splash, or natural after-shampoo conditioner.

Begin by combining either white or red wine vinegars and your favorite herbs. Some chefs like to let the herbs steep in the vinegar for a few weeks, and then drain and rebottle.

KITCHEN HERBS ADD EXCITEMENT AND ORIGINALITY to recipes, potpourri, and herbal vinegars to spice up a salad or give as a thoughtful gift. Grow herbs in a sunny window, provide plenty of moisture and feed regularly with a good water soluble plant food. Harvest up to a third of the plant at a time, by snipping off what you need with a pair of sharp scissors.

Gardening offers benefits for the soul and the environment

Each spring, millions of recreational gardeners across the country enjoy the process of planting, nurturing and harvesting. Whatever your age, and whether your garden is a windowbox filled with herbs, a large vegetable patch, or a bed of colorful flowers, the personal satisfaction of gardening can be immense.

And, as we become more aware of the importance of preserving, protecting and replenishing our natural resources, the benefits - and necessity - of maintaining a harmonious relationship with nature also are increasingly evident.

Long-range benefits

There are a variety of ways in which home gardeners can have a positive environmental impact.

Avoiding overwatering can save up to 12 percent - up to 50 gallons a week - of a homeowner's water use in the course of a summer.

By choosing the right plants, you can provide natural food and shelter for wildlife. In fact, you can attract specific birds and animals to your garden by including certain plants.

For example, hummingbirds like red morning glories, and butterflies are attracted to brightly colored flowers in full sunlight.

Over time, trees can remove large quantities of carbon dioxide from the atmosphere.

If you'd like to plant a tree but don't know how to go about it, contact a local nursery, horticultural society, arboretum or botanical garden. You're sure to find experts who are eager to assist you.

ADDING A CLASSICAL TOUCH TO YOUR GARDEN can begin with a decorative sundial. Throughout time, sundials have been an efficient way of counting the hours of a day, as well as a period when timepieces had enormous value as objects of beauty.

Windowsill herbs: For memorable recipes, health and beauty aids, gift items and more cups of herbs or flower petals. Seal the mixture up in tightly covered jars for a few weeks while the scent blends and fixates, then use uncovered in baskets, jars or sewn up into sachets.

Enhancing home-cooked meals: With herbs at your fingertips in the kitchen, you'll discover creative cooking impulses you never knew you had. Herbs can turn ordinary foods into gourmet treats, and they're a great way to add flavor and excitement to salt-free diets.

Use your windowsill herbs in salads, soups and stews, pasta sauces, omelettes, stuffings, rice and vegetables. Remember that fresh herbs, though more flavorful than dried, are less strong, so where a recipe calls for, say, a teaspoon of dried herbs, double that amount when using fresh herbs.

And after that fabulous meal, chewing a sprig of fresh parsley makes the world's best natural breath freshener.

Beautiful, year-long evergreens by design

Evergreen groundcovers may be used to provide cover where grass fails to grow or on slopes too steep to mow. They reduce soil erosion, control weeds and provide an important transition from the height of trees and shrubs to the low carpet of the lawn.

Try English ivy, pachysandra and hardy periwinkle. Wintercreeper euonymus provides an added bonus by changing from green to plum-purple in winter. Low groundcovers provide an ideal place to naturalize spring bulbs such as daffodils by hiding their unsightly leaves as they mature.

Simple to care for

Evergreens should be watered generously when first planted. Allowing them to go into the winter with dry soil may result in winter damage. At other times, water them only when the soil appears dry an inch or so beneath the surface. Two to four inches of a durable mulch, such as pine bark, will keep weeds under control and conserve moisture.

The key to maintaining good health and vigor is to provide an adequate supply of nutrients. When applied with a hose-end feeder, evergreens can absorb nutrients quickly through both roots and foliage.

Waste reduction news...

Let it lie; don't rake your lawn after mowing

by Alfred Van Mirbach
Waste Reduction Coordinator

Now that spring has sprung, a new season is upon us - the lawn-mowing season. It's the time of year when I shake my head in wonder as I watch people collect their grass clippings, put them in green plastic garbage bags and set them out at the curb with their garbage.

My amusement over this practice is dampened somewhat when I hear that an estimated 2,000 tonnes of grass clippings are still landfilled each year in Belleville alone. At the current tipping fee of $93 per tonne (not to mention the cost to collect), we are talking almost $200,000 each year.

Since the majority of households let their clippings lie on the lawn (where they belong), this means that the households that do bag their clippings cost the city $50 to $100 per year in garbage fees. I like to think that this is just a city phenomenon, but I suspect that it is still happening in some of our towns and rural areas as well.

Why is it that people go to this costly extra effort? It is primarily because of some myths about grass clippings. They are still floating around. More and more, people are starting to realize that grass clippings aren't bad for your lawn and don't cause thatch. If you mow your lawn properly, you shouldn't get yellowing clumps of clippings on your lawn, either. Honest!

Other related concerns are over-fertilization and over-watering. These activities make your grass grow like Jack's beanstalk, so there is even more to cut, bag and landfill - a vicious cycle.

Over-watering can also lead to runoff, which carries all those nice herbicides and fertilizers down the storm sewers into the Bay of Quinte.

More importantly, lawn water put a tremendous demand on the water supply system. Belleville is currently considering a $20 million dollar renovation/expansion to their water supply system to deal with the summer peaks caused by lawn watering.

If we stopped over-watering our lawns, Belleville could likely avoid some or all of that $20 million dollar expenditure. Other communities in this area are facing similar water supply problems.

Here are a few simple tips that will help you keep your lawn healthy and beautiful.

- * set your mower blade height at 2.5 to 3 inches
- * never cut more than one-third of the blade at a time
- * keep your mower blade sharp
- * mow in the early evening to let clippings settle overnight
- * never mow when the lawn is wet
- * water in the early morning to prevent evaporation
- * don't over-water - one inch every six days is plenty
- * leave your clippings where they belong - on the lawn.

The idea of just leaving grass clippings on the lawn is so simple and natural. When you leave the clippings behind, nature is kind enough to compost them for you and recycle them into new grass.

Call it free fertilizer. Then there is the time you save by not bagging the clippings, and the tax dollars you save by not burdening your municipality with garbage costs, and the space you save in that increasingly rare and endangered creature, the landfill. So come on, folk, let's stop bagging it.

When it comes right down to it, our North American obsession with golf green lawns is a little strange, and not very environmentally sustainable. Why not be a trend-setter on your block and get into xeriscaping (landscaping with drought-resistant plants). If done properly, you will end up with a beautiful yard that requires next to no maintenance or watering.

Spring Concert

Centre Hastings Secondary School held its annual Spring Concert last Wednesday evening. The Concert Band, Jazz Band, Choir, Grade 10 Class Band all participated in the event.

Public meeting May 19:

Input sought for planning local employment strategy

Planning job strategies and strengthening the local economy are the main reasons for a public meeting planned by the North Hastings Community Futures in Madoc on May 19.

"Central and North Hastings has been as hard hit and maybe even harder than other areas of the country during this recession," says Brian Sarginson, Co-ordinator for Community Futures.

At the public meeting, slated for the Madoc Township Hall in Eldorado on May 19 at 7 p.m., presentations will be made on the purpose and recent activities of Community Futures.

Sarginson hopes the community meetings planned for the area will identify concrete projects, such as the purchase of the abandoned railbed from Glen Ross to Lake St. Peter.

Community Futures recently expanded its borders to include Madoc, Marmora, Tweed and portions of the District of Nipissing, including Whitney and Madawaska.

Inquires about Community Futures can be made by contacting 1-800-665-5011.

Foley Bus Lines receives approval for licence expansion

Joe Foley Bus Lines Ltd. has been awarded a major expansion to their operating licence.

This approval is the result of a hearing with the Ontario Highway Transport Board held last November, at which nearly 50 witnesses testified in support of the expansion. The witnesses attended on behalf of various clubs and organizations in the County, as well as on a personal level.

With this expansion, Foleys are now licensed to pick up passengers from all points in Hastings County, with the exception of the villages of Frankford and Deseronto and the City of Trenton. Both classes of vehicles owned by the company are included in the approval, which includes Class D school bus as well as the Class A Public Vehicles now are both licensed. Previously, only some areas were covered for one class or the other.

This is a big step forward for the company, who have previously had to turn away business because of licence restrictions.

"We have had calls from ball teams, dance clubs, hockey and bowling teams, church groups, senior groups, various organizations and private individuals requesting charters," President Duane Foley said. "We had to turn them down with apologies up to this time."

"That is why there were so many willing witnesses to testify on our behalf. With their help, the expansion would not likely have been granted," Foley said. "We are very grateful to all those who helped us out in this way. We will now be able to accommodate them at their convenience."

People outside of our licensed area previously had to drive to our yard to board the bus, but now may be picked up almost anywhere in the County. Foleys out-of-province licence covers almost any destination in North America.

Baptist Church holds anniversary service

Special anniversary services were held at Madoc Baptist Church, on Sunday May, 9, 29 years since the church work began in Madoc.

Guest soloist was Dan Foster who sang two numbers.

A new door was dedicated in memory of Myrtle Gates, a pioneer in the early days of the church.

Each mother received a carnation followed by a buffet luncheon in the basement of the church.

Friends from Stirling, Belleville, Trenton, Whitby etc. were present for the occasion.

Madoc Township Council held its regular meeting on May 3 at 7:30 p.m. Present were Reeve Gerald Reid, Deputy Reeve Bob Sager, Councillors Graeme Burris, Raeburn Robinson, Lynn McCoy and Chief Building Official Doug Keller.

The total then, to be paid to the municipality would therefore be reduced to $18,000. Council would advise Mr. Anderson to retain the section requiring a guarantee of the services installed for a 24 month period. Carried.

Local support needed to get O'Hara Mill operational

The Moira River Conservation Authority (MRCA) is depending on community support in its struggle to get the O'Hara Mill Conservation Area in Madoc Township operational this summer.

Recent severe 30 per cent cuts to the MRCA operating budget mean less money is available than ever before for maintenance and staffing of popular watershed sites such as O'Hara Mill. The MRCA have yet to get confirmation of their grants to hire students for the summer. The authority usually gets word on summer grants by April, according to Lucille Fragomeni, MRCA community relations. She added that the MRCA has heard from some students that are interested in working at the Mill over the summer.

But things may be starting to look up if recent interest expressed by members of the local community is any indication. On Saturday, May 29 descendants of the O'Hara family will host a fundraiser in the Madoc IGA parking lot from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. The plan is to have two hips of beef to carve and will serve beef-on-a-bun and a pop at a very reasonable price. Organizer Mary Jane Henderson, whose grandmother was an O'Hara, says the event will rain or shine and also advise that children should bring a money to have their faces painted. All proceeds from the fundraiser will go to the O'Hara site.

This is not the first local event held to benefit the O'Hara site this year. In April the Madoc Township Recreation Committee held a bing which raised over $1,800 for the O'Hara Mill. The MRCA is currently trying to raise $26,000 to go along with the $13,000 provincial grant from the Ministry of Culture and Communication to repair the sawmill. The grant approval was announced last year. Fragomeni said the MRCA is only until the fall to raise share, but she said the authority intends to apply for Cont'd on page 6

Toxic Taxi will roll into Madoc next week: June 5

by Nancy Powers

Madoc residents will finally have an opportunity to safely dispose of their household hazardous waste material when the Centre & South Hastings "Toxic Taxi" rolls into Madoc on June 5.

The Centre & South Hastings Household Hazardous Waste Collection Program was officially kick-off in Belleville on May 19 when Co-ordinator Jeanne Vilneff outlined the operation.

A permanent depot, located beside the Public Works Yard on Wallbridge Crescent, will be open approximately eight days per year, and the satellite depots one or two days per year.

The "toxic taxi" will visit Marmora, Madoc, Stirling, Tweed, Frankford, Hungerford, Ivanhoe, Sidney, Tyendinaga, Thurlow and Trenton. Centre & South Hastings residents may bring their waste material to any one of the satellite depots or to the permanent one in Belleville.

Material from the satellite depots will be brought to Belleville located in a large specially equipped truck known as the "toxic taxi". Material is sorted and any that can be reused will be set aside with much of the remaining being recycled.

Household hazardous waste is any materials that are corrosive, reactive, flammable, toxic. Many are identifiable by the four warning symbols found on the labels. They are a skeleton hand, a flame, a skull & crossbones and an explosion symbol.

Some of the more common materials in the average household accepted by the toxic taxi include paint, stains, solvents, batteries, propane tanks, pesticide, transmission fluid, oven cleaners, pool chemicals, glue, expired medicines and flammables.

Hazardous waste not accepted includes radioactive waste, pathogenic wastes, syringes, ammunition or tires. Used oil and antifreeze will

Short list of sites to be named by June 14

by Jeff Wilson

An announcement of a short list of sites will be made public during a meeting on June 14. The Centre and South Hastings Waste Management Board agreed to the meeting date Wednesday.

Consultants Protor and Redfern had suggested a special meeting with affected landowners with a public meeting to follow, could take place on June 9, but due to scheduling conflicts the date was moved back to June 14.

The consultants told the Waste Management Board it will now go back and re-apply the criteria to all three hydrogeological categories, if candidate sites are not found then they will re-apply the criteria to agricultural land excluded in the last application.

The results of the re-application will be presented to the Landfill Technologies Subcommittee and the Executive Committee of the board on June 2, according to the memo.

Once the re-application is approved by the two committees, landowners and tenants living in candidate site areas will be invited to attend a private meeting with members of the Executive Committee, consultants, the project's legal counsel and a representative from the Ministry of the Environment on the morning of June 14.

A public announcement of the candidate site areas will be made in the afternoon, following the private meeting with landowners.

Following the announcement, Public Open House(s) will be held by the Public Advisory Committee the next week to allow for public input on Levels One, Two and Three of the site selection process and the results.

A summary of the of the site selection process and the results of Levels One, Two and Three will be prepared and made available at the public open house(s), according to the memo.

Important tips for barbecue use

It is important to use common sense when lighting or transporting your barbecue. Every year, people are injured needlessly while lighting their barbecue. Always follow the manufacturer's instructions for lighting. The Madoc Village Fire Department urges you to be careful when using your barbecue.

When lighting your gas barbecue, open the lid and have the match or lighter already burning before you turn on the propane.

Always use and store your gas barbecue and any propane cylinders outside.

When you are finished barbecuing, make sure you turn off the barbecue burners and the propane cylinder valves.

Transport propane cylinders in an upright position with the valve plugs in place, ensuring good ventilation. The best way to transport a cylinder is to place it inside a stable container in the trunk of your vehicle.

The trunk lid should be secured with a device which will allow it to remain partially open. The rear floor passenger side of your vehicle can be used, providing the cylinder is secured and the rear windows are open.

Ensure the cylinder valve is completely turned off and the valve plug is in place whenever the cylinder is not connected to an appliance.

KGH satellite hemodialysis unit one step closer to reality

Kingston General Hospital (KGH) is one step closer to realizing a dream of providing a self-care hemodialysis unit in Belleville to service outpatients in this area.

The Ministry of Health funded $725,600 for salaries, supplies and ongoing expenses. Also a one-time budget of $339,000 was provided for renovation expenses and for equipment purchases.

KGH has signed a contract with Cupido Construction who will conduct renovation work to space in the College Commercial Centre, 345 College Street, Belleville. The Kingston company was one of 13 firms to bid on the project.

The unit initially will serve at least 16 medically stable hemodialysis patients from Belleville and region, including Trenton, Napanee and Prince Edward County. Currently these patients travel to KGH three times a week for dialysis treatment.

In preparation for the opening of this unit, these patients have been trained at KGH to set up the dialysis machines and care for themselves during treatment. Healthcare staff will be on duty in the satellite unit during the treatment periods to assist as required.

It is expected the unit will expand to serve up to 20 self-care patients. Work on the project has begun and the unit is expected to open in September.

Former students' business cards on display during Reunion weekend

by Wilma Brady

The Marmora High School Reunion '93 committee asked former students to forward their business cards with their registration for the July 1-4 event.

Many have complied with this request. The cards will be put on display in the curling club where registrants will pick up their material when they arrive in Marmora.

We would like to share some of the information on these cards, although one probably should not be included in a family newspaper so it will be left unmentioned.

Others included:

Feasibility study to be done for Peterborough Food Co-op

Peterborough - The Peterborough Social Planning Council has received a $9,500 grant to prepare a feasibility study for the Peterborough Food Co-operative.

The announcement was made May 7 by Peterborough MPP Jenny Carter.

The funding will come from the provincial government's "jobsOntario Training" initiative.

Ms Carter said that through the Economic Development component of "jobsOntario Training," the government "helps a variety of locally-owned enterprises such as the Peterborough Food Co-operative become viable and provide jobs."

"jobsOntario Training" is a three-year employment and training program of the Ontario government that matches workers who receive social assistance, or have exhausted unemployment insurance, with private sector employers, training institutions and support services such as childcare, she explained.

Buchanan defends budget, says its 'fair and balanced'

Marmora - Hastings-Peterborough MPP Elmer Buchanan gives his government's budget an "A" because he says it is fair and balanced and its tax increases are based on ability to pay.

"A further 40,000 low income earners are taken off the income taxpayer rolls and another 10,000 of them have had their income tax reduced," the Minister of Agriculture and Food says.

"For those of us with taxable incomes, the increase is limited to three per cent," he said. "The surtax on higher incomes is also based on ability to pay."

"We didn't increase the sales tax and limited the new items which will be taxable. We've struck a balance between program reductions and tax increases."

Mr Buchanan admits "it's painful when you increase taxes, negotiate reductions of civil servants and wages or eliminate some programs."

"But with the deficit down to $9.2 billion," he says, "Ontarians can maintain the services we cherish, like health care and education, and

A royal honour: Edith McConnell's years of devotion to church work and education were recognized recently when she received the Commemorative Medal for the 125th Anniversary of the Confederation of Canada.

The special award recognizes the significant contributions individuals to their fellow citizens, their community and Canada - for "their effort for making Canada a better place to live."

There is certainly no doubt about Edith's contributions. Her work as an educator took her to Saskatchewan, Toronto, Hear and Cochrane before she returned to her Norwood roots where she continued teaching and volunteering. Edith has been involved in children's work at the Norwood Fair; was a member of the Norwood Library Board for 12 years; Secretary-Treasurer of the Norwood-Asphodel Cemetery Board for 29 years, resigning only after reaching her 90th birthday.

She also served the Norwood-Westwood Charge of the United Church as its treasurer for 20 years and was representative at treasurer of the Peterborough Presbytery of the United Church for 16 years. Edith was also a tireless visitor of church members who lived in nursing homes in Peterborough, Norwood and Marmora.

Edith's Canada 125 medal recognizes her "long-term, fond acknowledged community commitment."

Only twice before have medals of this type been struck - Canada's Centennial year and for the Queen's silver jubilee 1977.

In 1987 Rick Hansen finished his Man in Motion World Tour in which he travelled around the world to increase awareness of disabilities.

It was so successful that in 1988 the first NAAW began. Campbellford has been one of many communities to participate very successfully in the worthwhile program each year. Our town has been very cooperative in this project.

Each year members of the community have experienced a simulated disability and gone on a planned shopping trip. They experienced the barriers facing many people. This year will be somewhat different in that we will be sending volunteers out to use the buildings that have become accessible in the past years. Also, they will ride on the Venture Van to arrive at their destination.

The Venture Van has been one of the great accomplishments this year. It came into operation November, 1992 and has removed the barriers for many.

National Access Awareness Week will be recognized Monday here. This is not a week of fund-raising but rather a week of celebration. We celebrate the changes that have occurred in our community in the past five years.

It is a week when individuals and the community can continue to improve the quality of life for all Canadians. The objectives are to assess the accessibility of services and facilities, set measurable goals, make practical improvements, celebrate achievements, and have fun.

On Monday, May 31 we have a great day planned. Please note the new location. The Richardson will have six century historic prints by J.D. Kelly, 1862-1958 available.

In 1992 Aureen wrote a book entitled "Historic Visions of J.D. Kelly" which will also be available for $15 per copy. Aureen has already sold three quarters of the copies.

It's just packed (73 pages) with information and very good reading. I have one and I enjoy every page of it.

In a large saucepan, combine rhubarb, sugar, vinegar, cinnamon, allspice and cloves. Bring it to a boil and cook on simmer, or medium low heat, uncovered, for about 1-1/4 hours or until thick. Stir occasionally to prevent sticking. Pour into mason jars and seal. Makes about 6 cups. Serve with ham, chicken or cold meats.

Chow, see you next week.

Asthma Olympics at Trent bring feelings of achievement

Peterborough - Olympic-spirited youngsters and their families will take over Trent University June 19 for the area's first-ever Asthma Olympics being organized by the Kawartha-Pine Ridge Region office of The Lung Association.

Children age six to thirteen and their families will have a chance to try their luck at events that range from basketball shooting to musical hoola hoops. The day wraps up with a free swim in the university pool.

Lunch will also be provided and all participants will receive an Asthma Olympic medalion.

(The event runs from 9 am until 3:30 pm).

The purpose of the Asthma Olympics "is to promote a feeling of achievement for the asthmatic child by allowing them to participate in various track and field events as well as aquatic sports," says event organizer and Kawartha-Pine Ridge health education coordinator, Julie Sage.

Mrs. Sage has two asthmatic daughters, 14-year-old Kelly who is helping facilitate the Saturday event and Julia, 9.

Although an exercise-induced asthmatic, Julia regularly participates in a wide

Buchanan defends budget, says its 'fair and balanced'

maintain our commitment to job creation."

"The budget is short term pain for long term gain."

"As the premier and the minister of finance have said, we are responding to the fiscal realities of Ontario," Mr. Buchanan says. "We have acted to provide a climate which will create jobs and continue to get the economy going."

Mr. Buchanan says he bases his "A" grade on items such as:

- * For every dollar of new taxes, almost $4 is saved in reduced costs of operating the government;
- * Over the next three years almost $5 billion in interest charges on the debt will be saved;

* Total program spending will fall by 4.3 per cent;

* A community economic development fund, jobsOntario Community Action (of $300 million over three years) will have a significant amount committed to rural Ontario. Details will be announced within two weeks. The majority of the funds will be in the form of loan guarantees;

* The farm tax rebate program is continued at its 1992-93;

* A corporate minimum tax (CMT) for large firms is announced with its technical paper proposing how the tax will work. The CMT will be phased in over three years;

* Small businesses will be exempt from the CMT when their assets are less than $5 million;

* 116 new water and sewer projects will be funded;

* The $5 tire tax has been cancelled and the commercial concentration tax dropped.

"I expect lively discussions on the budget and the government's agenda at my four upcoming open forums," Mr. Buchanan says.

There will be forums in Lakfield (Scout Building) on June 3 and in Madoc (St. John's Anglican Parish Hall) June 4. Each forum will start at 7:30 pm.

Neighbourhood Watch yard sale success thanks to contributors

Norwood - Norwood's Neighbourhood Watch organization held a yard sale last week and raised nearly $106. The group extends its thanks to all who donated to the sale.

The local Neighbourhood Watch program is now a year old and has recently added some new block captains to the program. Some of the organization's volunteers have had some health problems and all Neighbourhood Watchers extend their best wishes for speedy recoveries.

The program will continue to have spotters in local stores to prevent petty theft and reduce losses.

The next Neighbourhood Watch meeting will be June 28 at 7 pm at the Pine Street Centre.

Remember: "Good neighbours watch because they care."

Melodius fun, Mary Knox and her Melody Men have done it again. Playing to a packed Pine Street Centre, Mary, Earl Hamblin, Bruce Davidson and Walter Baker unveiled a completely new program and earned unqualified praise from their audience. This popular local musical troupe mixed up their repertoire quite nicely doing narra-

It was a great way to kick off the summer season. Photo / Bill Freeman

It's always tempting to simply jump in the boat and go, but take a moment to ensure your safety. Take along all the safety equipment the law requires. Check the weather forecast before you leave the dock. Tell someone where you are going and when you expect to return. Leave the alcohol on shore.

Frog-leaping stars: The Norwood Lions Club introduced competitive frog jumping to its Wacky Water Weekend agenda and couldn't you know it - frogs love an audience, just like the raft racers. With fans standing four deep around the "frog arena," Jason Kelly was able to guide his entrant to first place. In second was Drew Fallis's well-trained leaper while Lenny Lafonte urged his frog on to a third place jump. Above (L-R) Lenny and Drew show off their trophies. Jason was absent when the photo was taken.

Dog house delight: It was inventions galore at Norwood District Public School last week as the first-ever "Inventions Convention" was held at the school. Taking a variation on the usual science fair theme, students allowed their imaginations run rampant and in doing so produced some mighty impressive inventions. Above, grade 6 students Alesha Wight and Myra Irving show off their "Pet-a-Matic" dog house, a wonderful structure that allows dogs to release their own food into a bowl while their owners are away. Alesha's dog Sam and Myra's dog Moutiez should enjoy this little device.

NEW & USED APPLIANCE SALE

Over the winter months we have been re-conditioning appliances. We have in stock 80 used refrigerators with new compressors installed. The compressor motor is the most important & expensive part on a refrigerator. We buy compressor motors 100 at a time directly from the manufacturer. This way we can rebuild refrigerators cheaper than our competition. We have just purchased 500 used fridges & stoves from a company in Toronto that we have been buying from the last 10 yrs. A lot of these refrigerators are apartment size & 2 door frost-free fridges with matching stoves. We also have 60' matching almond fridge & stove sets, ranging from 2 months old & up. We also have 100 freezers of all sizes & a big selection of washers & dryers, lawn mowers and air conditioners.

Smitty likes competition - it keeps one on their toes & prices in line. Smitty says check our competitors out & then come to Smitty's & browse thru our warehouses & see what we have to offer. You are not obligated to buy, just come & see for yourself our very clean & modern appliances. We take trades-ins, we have our own financing with no interest & same day delivery. If you are thinking of buying or selling your appliances, see Smitty just for an honest price.

WE JUST DON'T SELL APPLIANCES, WE GUARANTEE THEM AFTER THE SALE.

Unlimited enhanced 1000 acres for wildlife

43,000 acres of wildlife were secured by Ducks Unlimited Canada in 1992 and an additional 136,000 acres enhanced for wildlife on. While many of the 44 habitat sites were in rural provinces, major were also undertaken on the coast. The figures are reported in DU's recently released annual report. The report shows Canadian-land area is up eight per cent in the previous year, to 15.1 million. Most of the 1992 were generated by 100 Canadian individuals/businesses who support near-100 conservation. The balance of the $52 budget came from the U.S.

In the past five years, agricultural programs have been added to become the main focus of Ducks Unlimited Canada. This recognizes the fact that farmers and ranchers are the group of habitat managers and are the people in the field who can significantly improve the environment for adapt to current challenges. "We have strong agricultural programs in place on the prairies and we're now extending those programs to other provinces," he says. "At the same time we are making other important changes. DU has made a serious commitment to education. It's clear that the future of waterfowl and wildlife depends on a better understanding by the general public of the role wetlands play in our world. ## Summer volleyball program to hold registration

by Jeff Wilson

The Summer Volleyball Program will hold three registration days in Madoc, Marmora and Tweed in June.

The program is open to children from Grades 5 to 9 and will concentrate on developing volleyball skills. Students of the program will have three hours of volleyball a day at the Whytock Park beach courts, with one hour of time allowed to splash around in the Whytock Park swimming pool in Madoc.

The Summer Volleyball Program was developed by Carm Donato. He has hired six coaches and Supervisor Theresa Bailey to run the program.

The program will be comprised of four, one week long sessions (Monday to Friday from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.).

The registration fee for one session is $25. The fee entitles the child to a spot in the program and a T-shirt. A limit of 48 students per session has been set. Participants can register for another week session for $15. One session will be held in Marmora at a cost of $30 (no T-shirt), from Aug. 3 - 13 from 8:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. each day.

Registration will be held in Marmora on June 5 at the Beach House from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., in Madoc at the Madoc IGA on June 11 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. and in Tweed at Bush Furniture on June 19 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Local support needed to get O'Hara Mill operational

The MRCA is still hoping to hold its annual Family Day at the O'Hara Mill. This year's event is scheduled for Sunday, Aug. 8. The Authority is looking to hold a dinner/auction in September in an effort to raise money for the sawmill repair.

The O'Hara Mill Conservation Area is a 34 hectare site once owned and farmed by the O'Hara family. The museum, site focuses on three generations of O'Haras from 1847 and 1938. Included on the property are a water powered sawmill, the farm house, a carpenter's shop, a carriage house, a log school house and a log blacksmith shop. At the present time, the Conservation Area itself is open to the public, but the museum buildings remain closed.

Members of the MRCA and O'Hara Mill Museum Board of Management are examining all possible options in their bid to open the buildings to the public this summer. At a recent meeting of the O'Hara Mill Board, several community spirited individuals volunteered their time and expertise. In these days of fiscal restraint, this kind of grass roots support is crucial. Traditionally, the strength of the Conservation Authority movement has been in its local input and support from the people of the watershed. It appears now that this is what may make the difference for the future of the O'Hara Mill site.

Ontario Women's Institute receives "charitable organization" status

by Ruby McCoy

Else Vierich, of Bannockburn-Eldorado Women's Institute, was elected president of North Hastings District at the annual meeting held May 11 at Eldorado United Church.

Mrs. Vierich was elected in absentia but had agreed to act as president before leaving for a holiday in Germany.

The other officers are: Past President - Jean Bailey; 1st Vice-president - Jean Robinson; Secretary-treasurer - Isabel McInroy; Assistant Sec. - Carol Paraniuk; Program Co-ordinator - Mary Munroe; Public Relations officer - Ruby McCoy; Resolutions Co-ordinator - Wilma Patrick; Tweedsmuir History Curator - Joan Pearce; Auditors - Grace Morton and Ana Watson; Delegates to area convention - Else Vierich and Jean Robinson; Alternates - Jean Bailey and Bernice McKeown; Provincial Board Director of Subdivision 5 - Beatrice Harry; Alternate - Evelyn Burkitt.

Delegates and members from 10 branches attended the meeting which was chaired by out-going president Jean Bailey.

Refutation of the branch directors was conducted by Provincial Board Director Beatrice Harry. This was followed by an update by Mrs. Harry on events taking place in the next few months and plans to celebrate the Women's Institute Centennial in 1997.

A poster contest (11 X 17) is underway which must have an environmental message but may be done in black and white or in color. Entries must be taken to the next Trent Valley Convention for judging.

Women's Day at the Royal Winter Fair will be November 11 and will feature a display on "Women in Agriculture"; the theme this year is "food".

Mrs. Harry reported that the federal government (Revenue Canada) has approved the issuing of charitable receipts for income tax purposes on donations of $25 or more to the Women's Institute Headquarters Fund.

Each branch is asked to gather all donations, individual and branch, plus the proper forms for those wanting receipts, and take them to the area convention.

The need for a successful province-wide fund raising to collect the one million dollars needed to establish a Women's Institute headquarters near Guelph was stressed by Mrs. Harry.

She warned that the WI has to vacate the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food office by March 1994 and the new building must be available then.

Mrs. Harry concluded her remarks by reminding everyone to stand up, speak out and be proud to be a Women's Institute member.

Greetings were brought to the meeting from the Federated Women's Institute of Ontario Board by President-elect Donna Russett. She assumes the presidency this year.

Mrs. Russett told of attending the unveiling of the new Adelaide Hoodless stamp at McMaster University on March 8 and passed around a first day issue of the stamp for everyone to look at; then announced that she was turning it over to the District's Tweedsmuir History Archives.

This year's North Hastings District's BBQ will be held June 13 and Mrs. Russett asked for the co-operation of all branch members in making this another successful event. The cost is $7.50 for adults, children under 12 $3 and the supper will begin at 4 p.m. Tickets are available from any branch member.

Reports were also given by the following co-ordinators: Phyllis Rollins - Programs; Wilma Patrick - Resolutions; Ruby McCoy - Public Relations and Eileen Demore - Coins of Friendship.

The secretary-treasurer's reports were given by Isabel McInroy and showed a busy year just completed.

Rural Ontario Specialist Joanne Henderson brought the members up-to-date on the changes that are taking place in the Ministry of Agriculture and Food office in this area because of the cutbacks in funding due to the recession.

She also described the way her work is changing in order to meet the different needs brought about the stresses in farming and related organizations.

After lunch a memorial service was conducted by two members of Cooper-Remington Branch in memory of those members who have died since the last annual meeting.

Roll call was answered with a member of each branch speaking for one minute on the theme: Trees - The Breath of Life.

Guest speaker Steven Wilkins, of the Ministry of Natural Resources, held the audience's attention as he described his work with the Ministry over the past 14 years and the changes that are now taking place to put in place integrated resource management.

"Integrated resource management is described as a co-ordination of resource management programs and activities so that benefits are optimized and conflict is minimized," he explained.

He also touched on points raised in the short speeches by members on the theme: "Trees - The Breath of Life."

When leaving, Mr. Wilkins left a container of cedar and pine seedlings for the members to choose from and take home to plant. In appreciation for his attendance at the meeting, Mr. Wilkins was presented with a bottle of maple syrup.

An original skit written and starring Goldie Holmes and co-starring Bernice Clarke, both of the Queensborough Branch, produced much laughter but also sadness as people empathized with the two friends mourning the loss of their favourite trees.

The slate of officers (with the exception of the first and second vice-presidents which were filled by nominations from the floor) was presented by members of the Rylestone Branch and installed by Mrs. Harry.

In appreciation for all their hard work, cheques were presented to retiring President Jean Bailey and to Beatrice Harry, but were designated as donations to the Headquarters Fund in their names.

The members were reminded of a number of Centennial souvenirs which have been approved for sale. They include: a centennial flag, notebooks, mugs, special edition plates, a history of the WI, pins and much more.

A vote of thanks was extended by Bernice McKeown to the Bannockburn-Eldorado members for hosting the annual meeting and, on behalf of the Springbrook Branch, invited the District to hold the annual meeting in Springbrook next year.
